IT ALL BEGAN

September of '77 meant orientation for the sophomores and disorientation for those seeing the renovated old building for the first time. Wider halls, bright colors and added classrooms along with some room number changes caused momentary confusion for the returning students. Past seniors coming to pick up their yearbooks expressed surprise at the total change of the "original building."

IN MAY OF '77

1. Students and faculty alike eagerly watch the supplies pour in and dream of the renovation to come.
2. Old doors ready to be salvaged are reflections of a past.
3. In May of '77, the third floor looks like the aftermath of a demolition derby.
4. Ceilings lowered by four feet and the halls expanded by two make the halls brighter.
5. It's hard to believe that this shell is now a mass of modern classrooms.
6. One reminder of the past is the remaining old tiles on the floor of an otherwise new building.

SOME OF US ARE

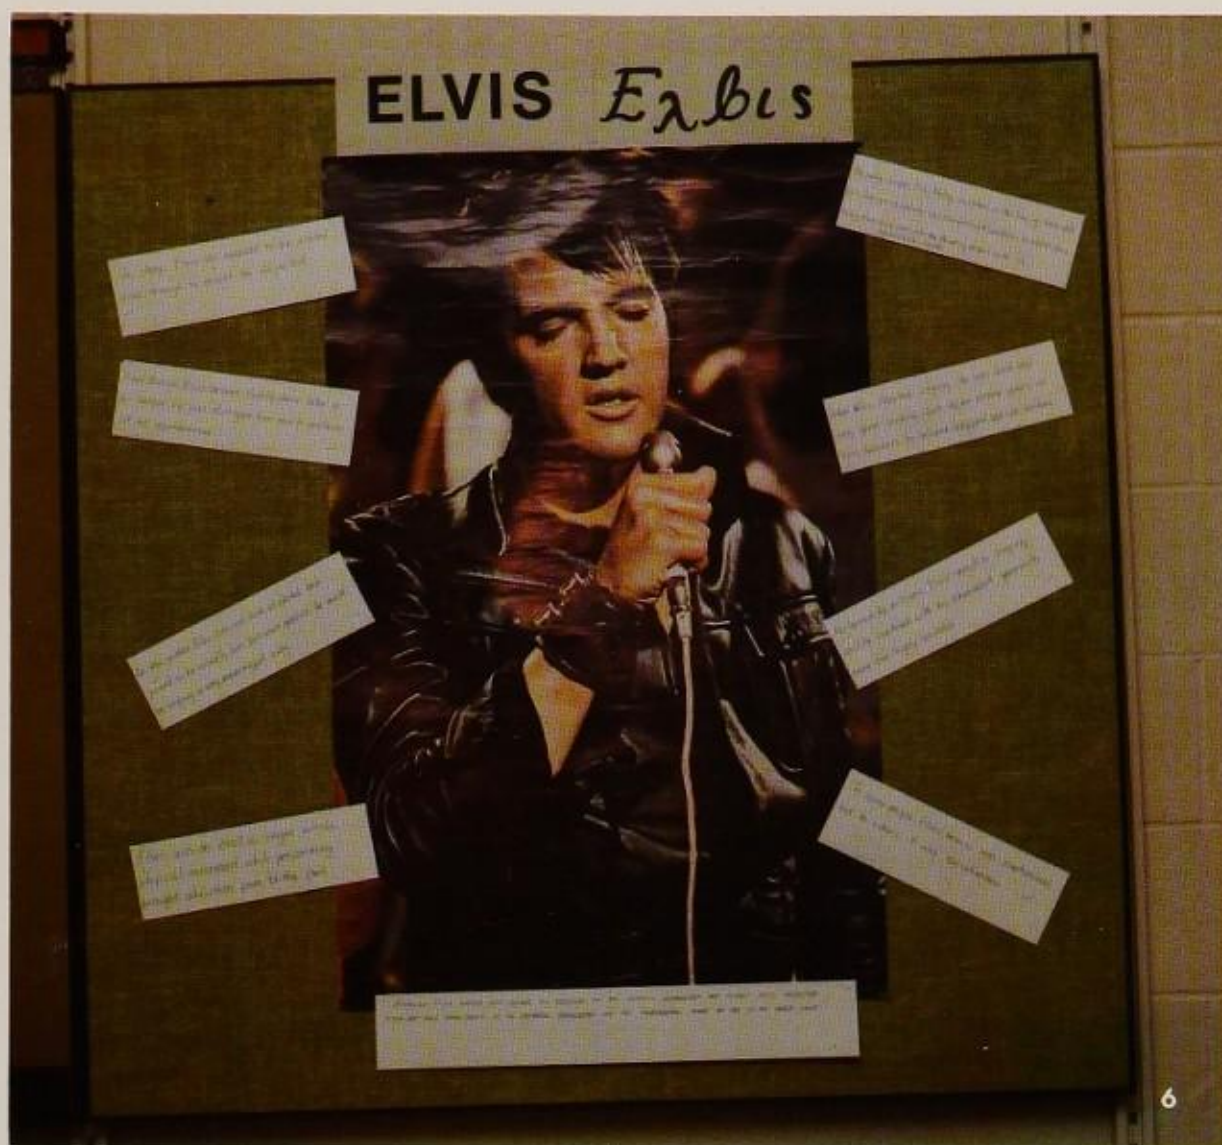

People said they would be happy just to get the old building remodeled — anything would be an improvement! Then the complaints rolled in from all sides. Restroom facilities were detested by some because the sinks were in the hall; others liked it because there was less smoking. Bright locker colors vivified the corridors but the lockers were said to be much too small. While some expressed a liking for the color-coordinated chalkboards, others voiced dissatisfaction because the boards could not be washed. Walls are not sound proof . . . and on and on. Actually the new facilities really lifted morale and the majority of the students and faculty did appreciate the renovation. It was a warmer, cleaner, and happier place to be thanks to the voters of Cuyahoga Falls.

2.

NEVER SATISFIED

1. Construction workers have a difficult time keeping eager observers out of the restricted area.
2. Bing Crosby, the crooning star of 70 movies, 850 records and 40 million singles of "White Christmas," will be greatly missed.
3. With the opening of school in September, the walls were still being constructed on the first floor.
4. Bit and pieces of "junk" make up this still life for art.
5. Silversmithing is part of the crafts class; Carolyn Pogany is doing it here.
6. Elvis Presley, puffy and drug-wasted at age 42 leaves grieving mourners at his death in August.
7. New chairs in the study hall are enjoyed by everyone like Dolores Cirino.

NO COAL

People thought the winter of '77 was the one which would be remembered, but the winter of '78 proved Murphy's Law. Not only was Ohio plagued by cold, snow and a blizzard, but the electricity was at a premium because of the long, drawn-out coal strike.

CAUSES CUTBACKS

1. World Literature class gathers at Water Works Park for a Folk Festival.
2. Students like Charmie Christman mold their creations in art.
3. Vocational students like Ron Davis are placed in jobs.
4. Mary Beth Edwards is one of many students in the Health Occupations class.
5. Commercial art teacher, Mr. Walker, assists Margie Lucas who also won an NCTE award.
6. New lighting in the building makes sketching easier.
7. Warm spring and fall afternoons allow for some noon time gatherings.
8. Long dreaded by students like Boo Culbertson the metric system draws nearer.
9. Four other schools send students to the Falls cosmetology classes.

REFLECTIONS OF

At 8:15 am on January 26, 1978, the weather service said: "This storm has already proven to be the strongest to pass over the area since weather records were begun." Blizzard winds reaching gusts of 76 MPH were recorded at Akron-Canton Airport and the wind chill factor made it as low as minus 65°F., and an all-time record low barometer reading of 28.33 inches was recorded at 3:47 am.

Blowing and drifting snow made the efforts of the salt crews and snow plows futile. Tree, chimneys and TV antennas crashed into the streets and houses and literally hundreds of windows were blown out.

It didn't all end on January 27 when the winds died down. There were still people to rescue and pipes to repair, and tales to tell of the blizzard of '78.

1. Many cars, refusing to start because of the sub-zero weather, are plowed in where they stand.
2. Walking to school is a real challenge since most homeowners don't have the equipment necessary to remove large, heavy amounts of snow.

A WINTER PAST

3. Vocational education offers students practical experience in their fields.

4. Once loud with resounding cheers, the bleachers and refreshment stand are draped in a silent snow.

5. Director George Lucas put $9 million in special effects and comic-strip adventure into "Star Wars" which is closely followed by "Close Encounter of the Third Kind;" may the Force be with you in your encounters.

6. STOP! Just stop all this snow! At least there's only "one way" to go and that is toward spring.

7. Ah youth! Our strength and optimism manage to bring us through the throes of a blizzard. Here are Mimi King and Karen Zimmerman bombing the photographer.

SIZE CAN BE

1. Cosmetology is one Vo.Ed. program which will never have to worry about decreasing enrollment as students like Teri Fields are eager to learn a profession.
2. Old style lockers have lots of room but it's hard to reach the top shelf.
3. New phones installed around the cafeteria and main office give the students better facilities; Danny Reed uses this one.
4. English teacher, Mrs. Ferner, is admired by many students for her gentle ways and fine teaching.
5. Many groups sell suckers to make money, Kathy Bullinger enjoys one during a fire drill.
6. A form of tattoo by Kim Dyke?
7. Steve Bible, Andy Myers, Bob Walters and Mark Moore enjoying senior lounge privileges.
8. Many students don't like the sinks in halls, but it has cut down on vandalism. Steve Johnson doesn't seem to mind the new facility.
9. Developmental reading is improved by the use of the new reading booths.

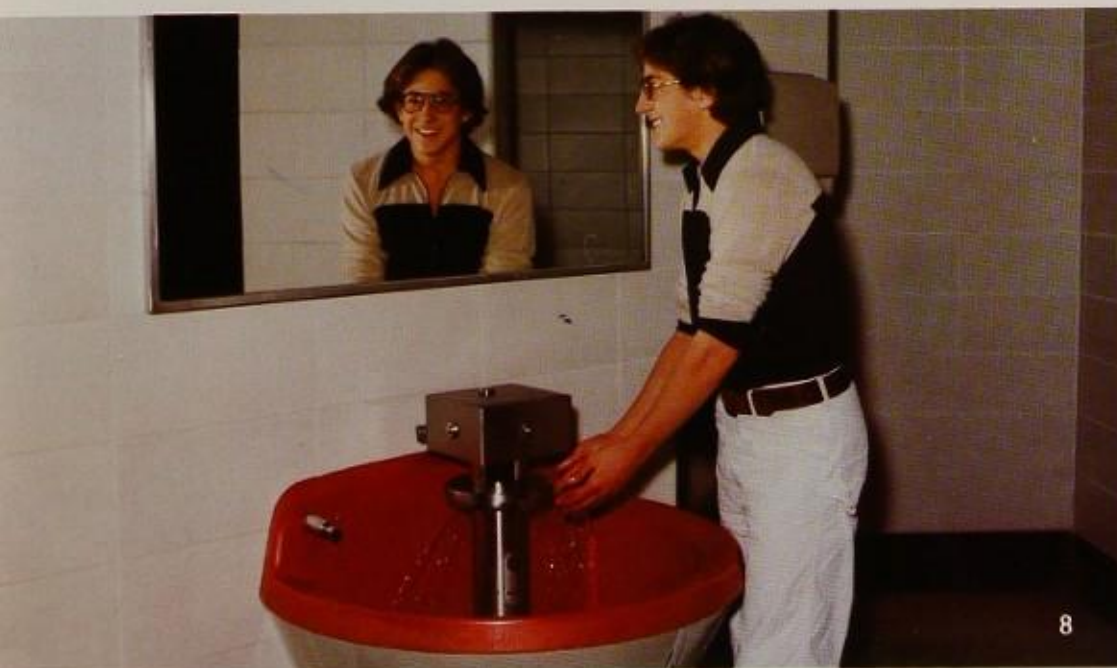

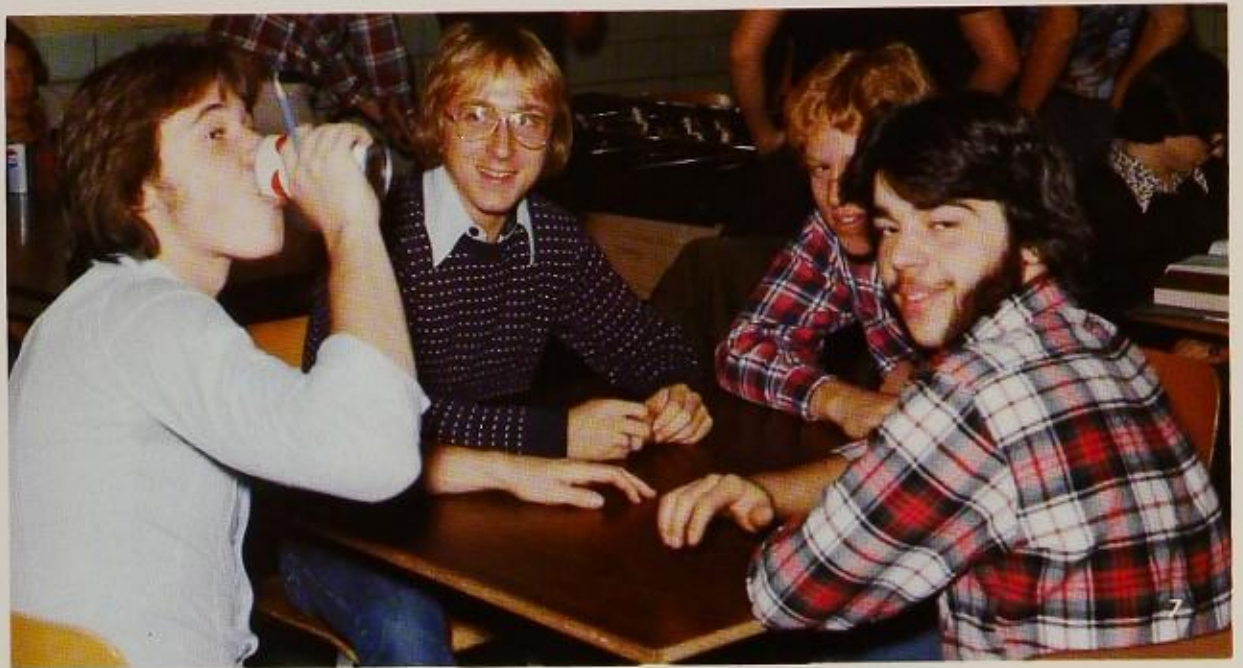

AN ADVANTAGE

Most people point out the disadvantages of a large high school but Mr. Parsons, administrative principal, pointed out some very real advantages. "We are truly a comprehensive high school. Our large enrollment permits many and varied courses — at several levels of achievement — so that every student's interests can be served by the large teaching staff of 135 members plus counseling and para-professional people.

By working, associating, and competing with many students during high school, the Falls students are able to adjust readily to a large college setting."

STUDENTS MEET

1. A Cappella choir meets fifth hour each day to rehearse for their many community programs.
2. Secretary, Mrs. Peterson, along with principal, Mr. Rump, has served the class of '78 for three years of their high school experience.
3. Ascending the steps to the lighting loft is Mike Wright.
4. What was thought to be a fire drill turned out to be a fire in a heating unit in the hallway.
5. Dan Hawley looks on as Mr. Sessions gives some advice on repairing a muffler system.
6. This is the second year for the federally mandated co-ed physical education classes.
7. T-shirts have gain in popularity as shown by Lisa Paddock.
8. Lockers like that of Merriruth Gray are in the renovated part of the building and are considerably smaller and require that a latch be sprung to open the book storage section.
9. First semester sophomores take a lot of razzing from the upperclassmen.

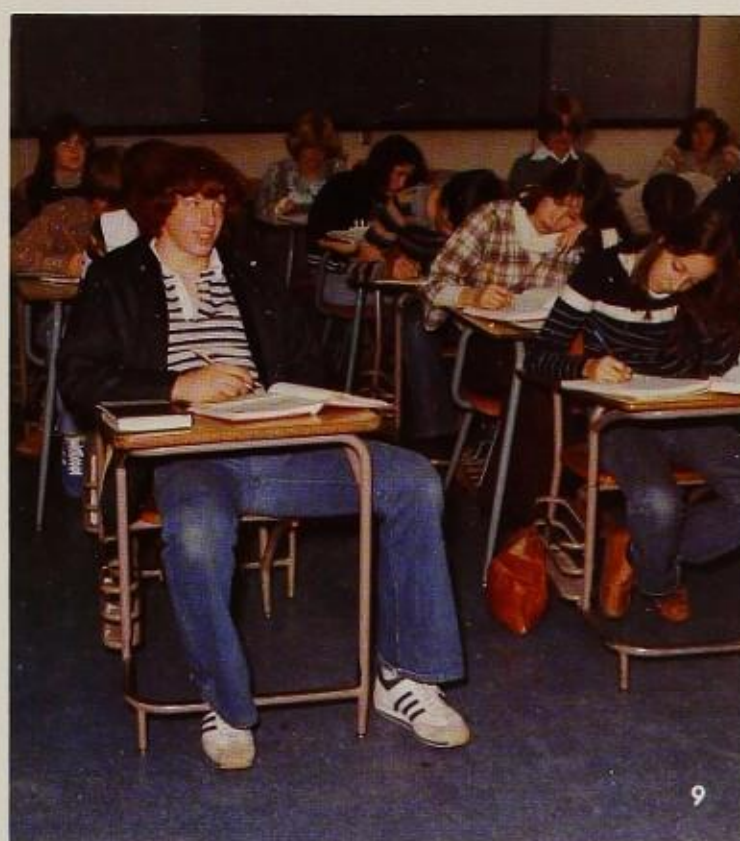

WITH CULTURE

Culture and Man was introduced as a new course in September of '77. It was offered for students interested in studying man's cultural development through the ages. Greek, Roman, Renaissance and Baroque periods were studied through the relationships of religion, philosophy, musical trends and expression, painting, sculpture, and architecture as related to modern times.

Mr. Feldbush taught the music section, Mrs. Tromp the social studies and Mr. Tener instructed the students in the area of art.

OF A BEGINNING

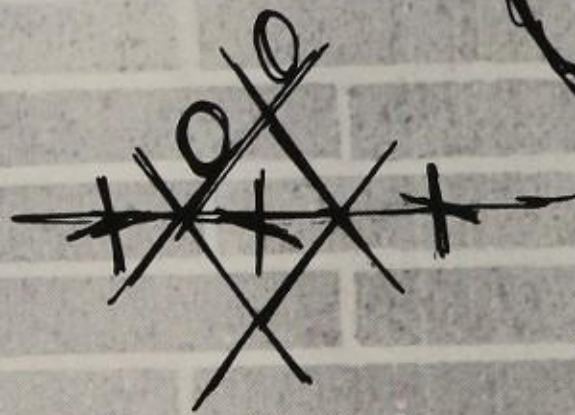

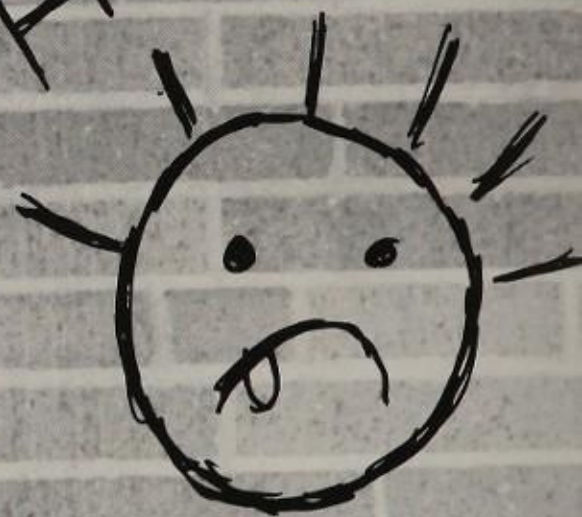

The final year of high school marks time of change in everyone's life. It is a time to look back on what has gone by, and yet even more, a time to look ahead to what may be. It is a time for reflecting on our past successes — friends we've made, spelling bees we've lost, and exams we've somehow managed to survive and realizing that even though we may have failed from time to time, each failure brings a success of its own. Ending these years — which can never really end — we begin with a little more apprehension, and a whole lot of hope. We take with us a few prized insights that may, with a little luck, help us through the rough spots of a future that is anxious to begin.

'Rocky punches' give the new look innovations vary the marching step

Traditional formats of the Tiger Band provided a sound for every music lover. In '77, "April in Paris" and Barry Manilow's "Looks Like We Made It" satisfied concert enthusiasts. Glen Miller's "String of Pearls" and "Bandstand Boogie," from the Swing Era, provided a beat for the fox trot fans, while the hit movie's theme "Rocky" and Stevie Wonder's "Sir Duke" pleased the current rock fans.

New details to each year's traditional routines kept the band's look current and innovative. The "Rocky Punches" and the "Ray Charles Sway" gave some of the '77 season performances a fresh look. Barry Manilow's "Bandstand Boogie" used a routine that sent band members to all ends of the field in a thrilling "explosion." Memories of the 1977 year of Marching Band were a reflection of these additions and traditions.

Feldbush's 18th year merits 4 trophies

Mr. Feldbush's 18th year with the Cuyahoga Falls High School Marching Tiger Band brought with it 139 band members, 4 trophies of excellence, and an unusual amount of illness and broken bones; however, the Tiger Band survived without too much confusion.

Before school started in September of 1977, the band travelled to Canada to perform for the Hamilton Tigercats. In August, they performed a halftime show at a Cleveland Browns game.

2. Tuba players Matt Ruley, Bill Davis, and Eric Garman stand at attention during one of the 4 weeks of summer practice.

3. Performing at the annual St.V. game at the Rubberbowl, Shelley Burley leads the Tiger Band.

Bus trips call for split second timing

One of the most unforgettable adventures of 1977 was the Cuyahoga Falls-Upper Arlington football game. Trouble began when the band buses got a late start. As if this weren't bad enough, somewhere outside of Delaware, Ohio, one of the buses ran out of gas. To make a long (and painful) story short, the band arrived at the Upper Arlington stadium with six seconds left on the clock before halftime. Coming home was also full of complications, leaving the band on the road until 3:00 a.m. But, as usual, the band survived the season, and made a rather good show of it at that. Highlights of the season were presented at the "One More Time" concert, November 14.

1. FRONT ROW: L. Thompson, K. McDermott, A. Rasor, S. Feltovich, C. Schneider, T. Raines, S. Markulis, J. Ewart, B. Werstler, J. Turley; ROW TWO: V. Cottril, J. Ellsworth, R. Fillmore, D. 2. Senior majorette, Etola Leipply performs to an arrangement of "Breezin' " by Mr. Youtz.
3. Flutists Heather Hastman, Martha Burr ridge, and Pam Hunsicker help to maintain the Tiger Band's reputation for stright lines and outstanding form.
4. Marching band practices inflict a considerable amount of wear and tear on Tubas and clothing, as illustrated by Bill Davis.
5. Marking the end of marching season, the "One More Time" concert is a tradition enjoyed by many.
6. "Ums and Ubas" was one of the special features of the "One More Time" concert. Patti Messner, Amy Parker, and Carolyn Mair mimic their favorite drum and tuba players.
7. In his 4th year of assistant directorship, Mr. Youtz takes a stand at the One More Time band concert.

Tigers net 4 wins

Although the Tiger soccer team struggled to a 4-13-2 record, Coach Jon Wnoroski reflected on this season as an experience for his young squad. Of the 29 players on the team, 21 of them were underclassmen including 7 of the 9 starters. Their lack of experience hurt the Tigers a great deal but as the season progressed so did the team's calibre of play as the team became more familiar with each other. As evidence to this was the fact that the Tigers won 2 and tied 1 in the final 4 games. Included in this late season flourish was the highlight of the season, a 3-1 victory over Berlin Hiland in the first round of the playoffs. Individual accomplishments were contributed by Vic Rosato for most points and by Steve Tisdale and Mike Cully, who tied for the lead in assists.

Looking back, Coach Ranney states, "Competition this year was at its highest." Even though they were confronted with a tough schedule, the team managed a winning season with a record of 8-6. Throughout the year, seniors Missy Miller and Phyllis Glasgow captained the varsity team. For her outstanding participation in this strugglesome year, Jr., Carol Goodwill was presented with the coveted Coach's Award. Carol, along with thirteen others will return next year to form an all senior squad.

1. One of the leading J.V. servers, Alyson Applegarth returns opponent's serve with a carefully executed bump.
2. Missy Miller, who has led the varsity team for the past two years in serving, finishes this year with 66 points.
3. Junior Bev Lutz has a fulfilling year as she participates in gymnastics and softball as well.
4. J.V. co-captains Sharon Cogdeill and Dorothy Mackey discuss team tactics.
5. Although she suffered an injury mid season, Clare Constantine sparked team play.
6. Although she is new to the school, Dawn Glenney gains prominence through her spiking and serving records.
7. Jodi Hill, one of 4 seniors, continues play while Clare Constantine awaits the next strategic move.
8. Sonya Rencevicz, one of the teams leading spikers is congratulated by co-captain Phyllis Glasgow on another fine performance.

1. Third year player Phyllis Glasgow contributes to her team's 8-6 season.
2. In Wendy Colton's blocking, this technique is quite "hand-y."
3. To J.V. coach Karen Kennedy, victories come often in their 11-3 season.
4. Leading the J.V.'s with 87 service points, Maureen Boles also aides her team in spiking.
5. Height is no deterrent in bumping and especially in spiking for highly ranked hitter Ellen Ferrato.
6. Sharon Cogdeill, a J.V. co-captain, shows consistent skillful play.
7. Ball direction is a technique that Coach Ranney emphasizes in her game plan as displayed by Angie Jacoby.

Girls overcome tough schedule

Once again, 1977 proved to be a winning season for the J.V. They finished the year with an 11-3 record. A finely skilled player, Maureen Boles, added to her team's season by serving 14 straight points out of a possible 15. This, no doubt, was one of the reasons she received the Most Improved J.V. Player Award. Sophomores, Alyson Applegarth and Wendy Colton aided with accuracy in serving. Good teamwork, which is essential to a winning season was captained by Dorothy Mackey and Sharon Cogdeill.

Falls "D" beats V

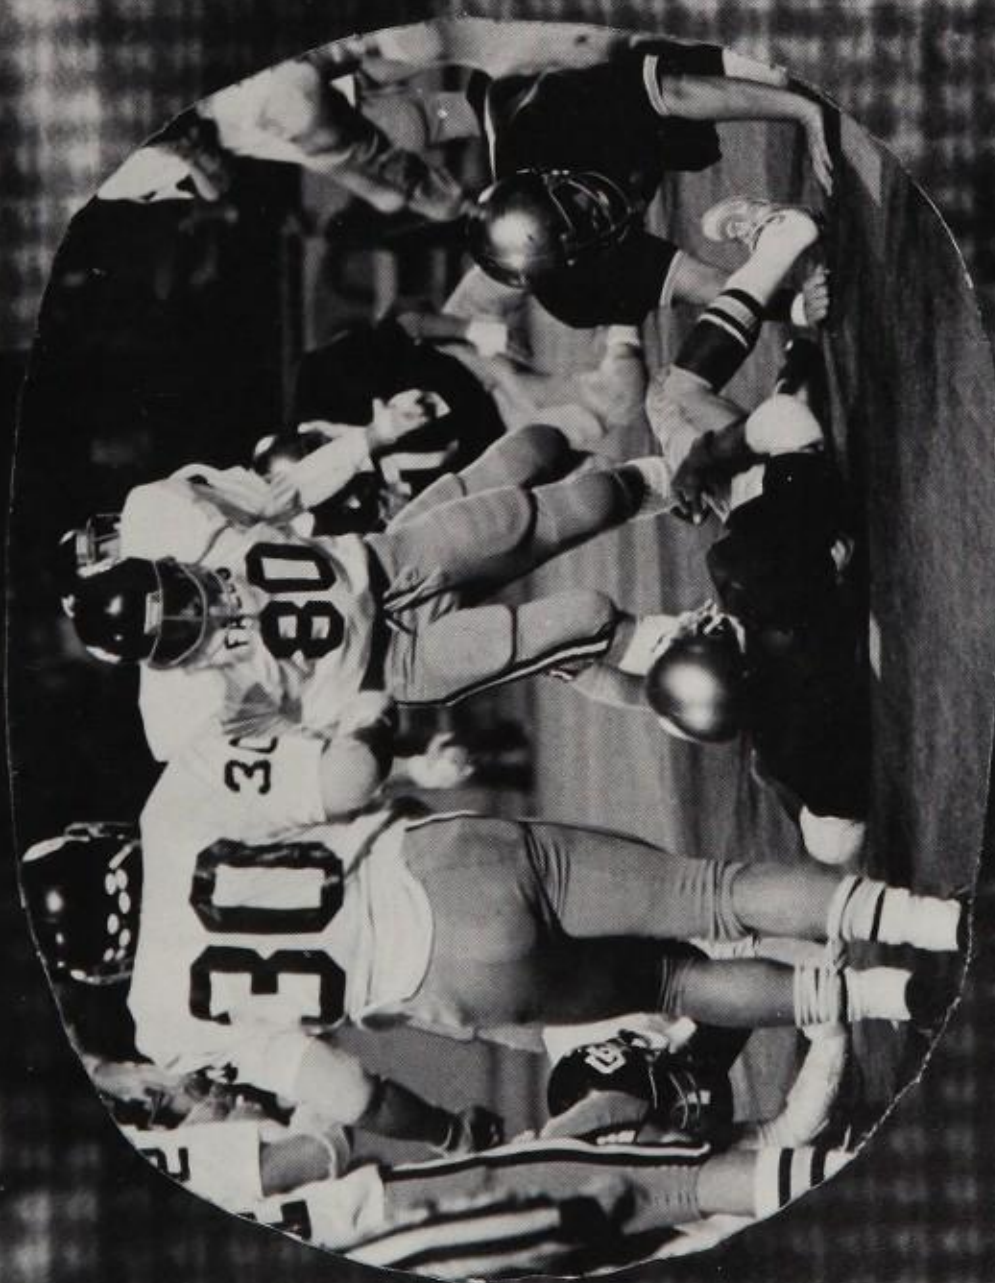

St. Vincent's Irish luck ran out for the second year in succession on Oct. 14 when the Tiger's defeated the Irish 3-2. This game provided the turning point for the season with the Tigers losing only one of the five remaining games.

It was almost entirely a defensive struggle for both teams and the only points St. V. received were the result of a strategic safety committed purposely by Falls.

From the defensive standpoint, it was a shut-out.

Outstanding players for the Tigers were Jeff Oldham who kicked a 38 yard field goal which gave Falls the one point edge they needed to win, and Jeff Charles who had twelve hard hitting tackles. Also, Bob Grenfell, Kirby Christenson and Todd Roberson did outstanding jobs of blocking.

Don Hickman made a game saving fumble recovery and Mike Thompson made a game ending interception to ice the win.

1. One of the key players on the Tiger's defensive unit is Dave McCallops.
2. Leading in interceptions for the season is Mike Thompson who started this record during the first game.
3. Keeping the team spirit alive are cheerleaders Karen Haddad, Karen Moore, Chris Lane, and Sandy Wilkinson.
4. Winning points are scored by the Tiger field goal squad against St. V.

5. Tiger defense came through many times during the season.
6. Newcomer to the Falls High coaching staff is Mr. Synder who joins Mr. Ross, in his eleventh year as head coach.

'77 labeled comeback season

Dayton Colonel White was the first opponent of the 1977 Tiger Football team and our offense went on to a 54 point victory which shattered the school record for total game points. Also, the defense played an excellent game by stopping all touch-down attempts and by giving up only 80 yards and two first downs.

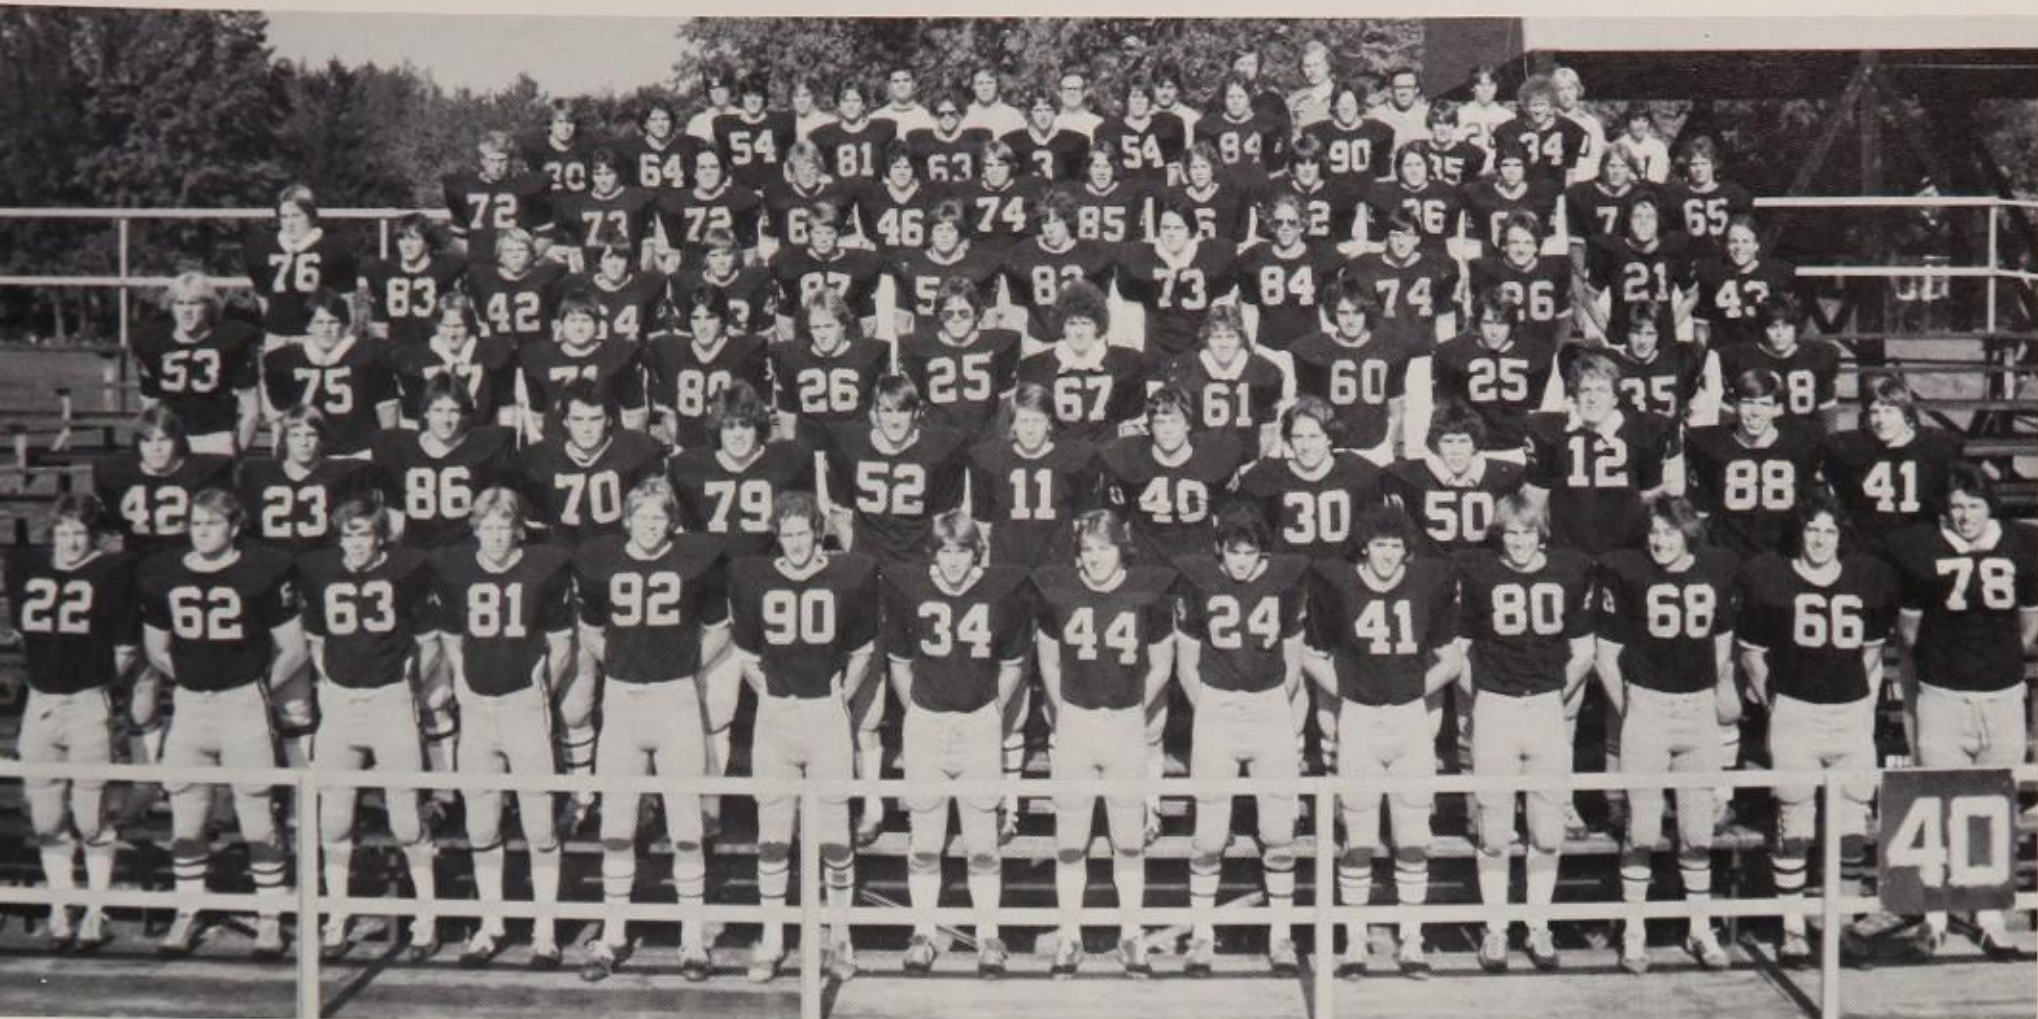

Although the Tigers lost the next four games, they fought hard and some fine playing resulted. Handicapped by a dozen injuries, the starting line-up had twenty-seven different defensive players and twenty-five starting offensive players at times during these four games. These numbers can be compared to the average of fifteen different starting offensive and defensive players in a normal situation.

Reflecting on these four games, it can be seen that the scores didn't tell the whole story. Bob Grenfell did an excellent job of blocking and Jeff Charles and John Counes both played exceptionally well.

Tiger pride proves rewarding to Falls

Despite the numerous injuries which crippled the Tigers early into the season, the team held together and won their last four of five games. Yielding only twenty points in those last five games, the team had many achievements. Among those were a new record for fewest yards allowed passing in a season, three defensive shut-outs, Dave Reagan's 102 yd. interception return against Tallmadge, Jeff Charles being selected for the All Summit County first team and Tom Ryan being chosen for the second team. Jeff and Tom also were selected for the All District third team. Coach Terry Ross has high hopes for next year's team with 13 starters returning.

World Lit. class experiences

During 1977, the World Literature class of Mr. Stitt and Mrs. Ferner experienced customs from many cultures. In November, students met in the evening at Waterworks Park for a Folk Festival. Students told folk tales from many countries, sang folk songs, and created puppet shows around a large fireplace. In Mid-December, the World Literature class put on a Medieval-Renaissance Christmas festival.

1. Brian Harsh directs members of A Cappella choir and M&M's as they sing the Latin hymn "C Magnum Mysterium."
2. The class members worked in committees for over a month to prepare plays, food, music and decorations in the style of Christmas long ago.
3. A fireplace at Waterworks Park warms Beth McQuilkin and Val Stromquist as they sing a folk song.

NFL

In an effort to raise money for the National Forensic League, the Variety Show came into being. It consisted of a series of movie scenes, dramatic cuttings and one act plays. Under the direction of Lee Reynolds and Mr. Stitt, the actors and actresses made their own costumes and designed their scenery. Approximately 100 people

The walls, consisting of six flats of framework covered with canvas, were painted and decorated to create the Dalton mansion and the setting for "High Window."

This was the first play in the history of Cuyahoga Falls High School in which each of the five head crew positions were held by women, Robin Fillmore, stage manager, was assisted by Bonnie Guyer. Head lighting technician was Holly Zeleny, and the sound technicians were Bev Ott and Cindy Schrader.

high window

- a perplexing mystery

Mellow-Drama staged

Over 50 eager students auditioned for parts in the fall play; six seniors, two juniors, and four sophomores were chosen for parts and rehearsals were conducted every day for both plays. "High Window," was a suspenseful drama about the circumstances concerning Warren Winthrop's murder. According to widowed Emily Winthrop, her husband was pushed from a third floor window by her meek, myopic nephew, Walter Hodge. In a final confrontation, Walter, Linda Norton, and Judith Ware, solve the mystery by finding that Emily was the one WHO DONE IT. Regretfully, the Yearbook Staff received only two pictures from "High Window" due to technical difficulties.

Also presented was the melodrama, "Curse You, Jack Dalton." Setting the scene at the Dalton's Fifth Avenue Mansion, poor, honest Bertha Blair, the maid, is faced with a dilemma. Not only was she the housekeeper, but also young Jack's sweetheart. The two encountered many pitfalls with Egbert Van Horn and Jack's mother. As the story progresses, villainous Egbert Van Horn was captured and Jack and darling Bertha lived happily ever after.

1. Linda Norton, a curious newspaper reporter, played by Kim Kaza, and Emily Winthrop, an old lady in a wheelchair, portrayed by Marla Jean Motter, keep the audience in suspense as to who done it. 2. Cast members, Andy Shumway, Cathy Willett, Marla Jean Motter, Kim Kaza and Pat Csora, take their final bows. 3. Val Stromquist designed the programs and was House Manager.

Curtains up, attendance down

Considering the late date of the decision to have a play, two one acts were chosen. This was concluded because the scheduled dates of the play did not allow time for rehearsal and the learning of lines for a three act play. Attendance was hindered somewhat due to the late scheduling. Availability of the auditorium left Thursday and Friday as the only possible dates which also handicapped the turn out. Even though ticket sales grossed over $600, the cost of set construction whittled the profits to near zero. Mrs. Gardner headed Production, Mrs. B. Davis was in charge of Business, and Mr. Bantum was the Technical Director.

1. A conniving Jay Jones (Egbert Van Horn) is perplexing when confronted by actor and choir member Barry Hartz.
2. Sophomore David Bline plays Richard Blair, Bertha's brother who has a heart filled with hope while senior, Kathy Wolf portrays Anna Alvarado who has a heart filled of granite.
3. One of 4 sophomores chosen for a starring role is Leslie Christ who portrays Eloise Dalton.
4. Cheryl Homer, a veteran actress portrays Donna Dalton, an aristocratic matron who has a heart of stone.

5. Out of 50 who auditioned, these 5 were chosen for starring roles in "Curse You . . ."

6. Two of 6 seniors in this year's fall plays are Cheryl Homer and Jay Jones.

7. Although plagued by illness, Barry Hartz, Lynn Camerata's hero, comes through for the final show.

Tigerbackers create paradise

On October 29, 1977, about forty ambitious Tigerbackers and their friends worked for 4½ hours to transform the Cuyahoga Falls High gym into an "Evening of Paradise."

Crepe paper formed a romantic canopy, while palm trees surrounded the 180 couples who attended. Goldfish bowls, live plants and a bubbling fountain were the final touch for a tropical splendor that, as commented by many, was one of the best and most beautiful Fall Sports Dances.

1. "Real" palm trees used to surround the Homecoming court's throne are transported by Barb Bevington and Sue Bolognue.
2. Taking a break from hanging crepe paper, used to create a drop ceiling-sky effect, is Barb Bevington.
3. President of Tigerbackers, Barb Hayden, helps hang a mural that camouflages the gym bleachers.
4. Liesha Lewis keeps her balance while draping a crepe paper sky.

1. In only four hours the gym could be transformed into a tropical paradise — it's hard to believe.
2. Two hundred and sixty chairs were needed to seat the couples attending Homecoming.
3. Tigerbackers Mary Quirk and Laura Baxter cover tables beneath a grove of palm trees bearing the initials of Homecoming couples, a Fall Sports Dance tradition.
4. Mary Armbruster helps create a starry night effect.

360 enjoy dance

"You Light Up My Life," the theme song chosen for the 1977 Fall Sports Dance, serenaded the 180 couples who enjoyed 3 hours of dancing, refreshments and entertainment. The band, Bogus, set the mood with their renditions of popular Hall and Oates, James Taylor and Boz Scaggs tunes. From football and majorettes, Joe Greenwell and Sherrie Zimmerman were crowned king and queen. Football was chosen as the favorite Fall sport.

Despite injuries, runners advance to districts

Coach Pozarski feels some of the best runners came from Northeastern Ohio which is the district for the Falls runners. Twenty runners made up one of the largest teams in history; 13 lettered, with 8 returning, and 3 of those were sophomores. Ray Jackson and Todd Pickard, next year's captains, placed 1st and 2nd for the team the entire season. Three runners went to districts: Captain Bill Dowey, Ray Jackson, and Todd Pickard. Some failure was due to the injuries to two key runners. This year the race was lengthened from the usual two miles to two and a half miles.

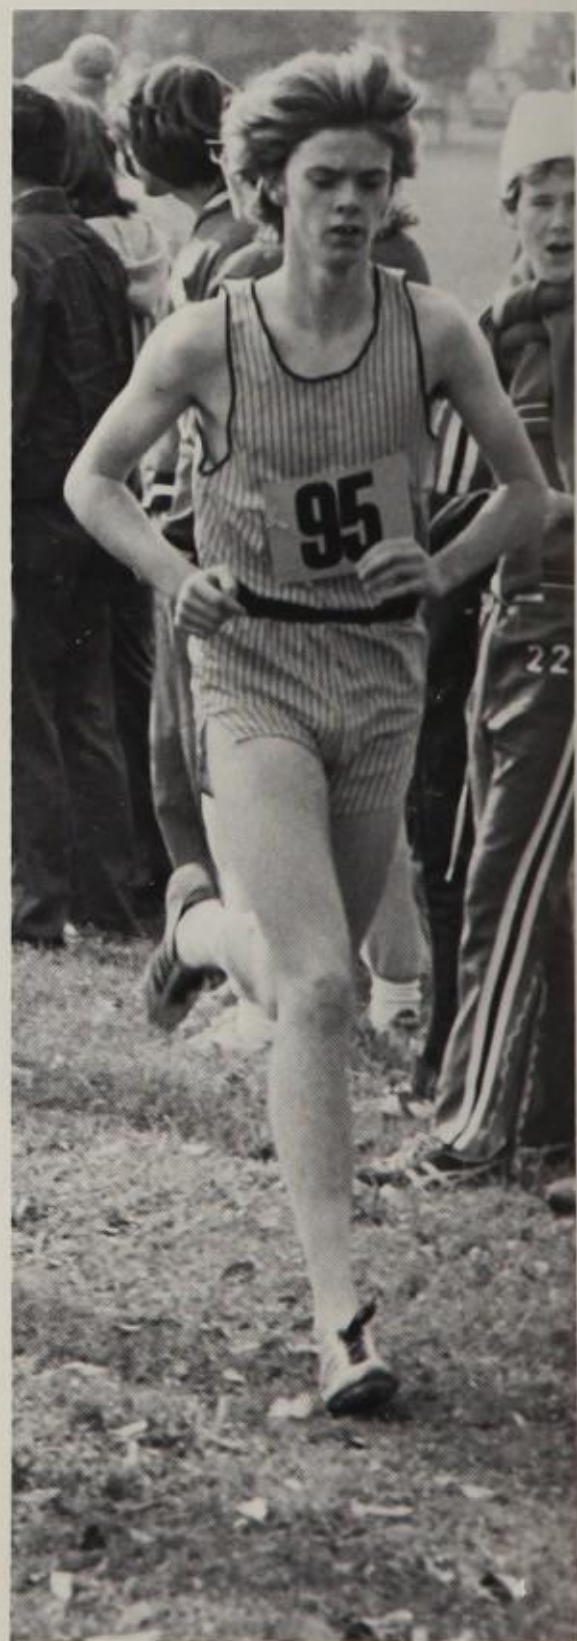

1. In the Sectional meet, competing against 25 teams, Falls places 12th.
2. As was last season, Goodyear park is used again this year for Falls Cross Country.
3. Moving along is Doug Dix.
4. Coach Pozarski offers his view of the meet.
5. One of the 20 team members is Todd Nicol.
6. Letterman Randy Morton will be returning next year as a junior.
7. Enjoying the afternoon run is Todd Spicer.

Journey of 1,000 miles begins with one step

With the participants running during the summer and after school for a few hours, some ran 1,000 miles from June until the end of the season. Cross Country is not a big spectator sport, but those participating and interested find it worthwhile and enjoyable. Many runners participate in cross country to get in shape between sports. Mr. Pozarski has completed his 20th year of coaching

Coach's prediction prevails

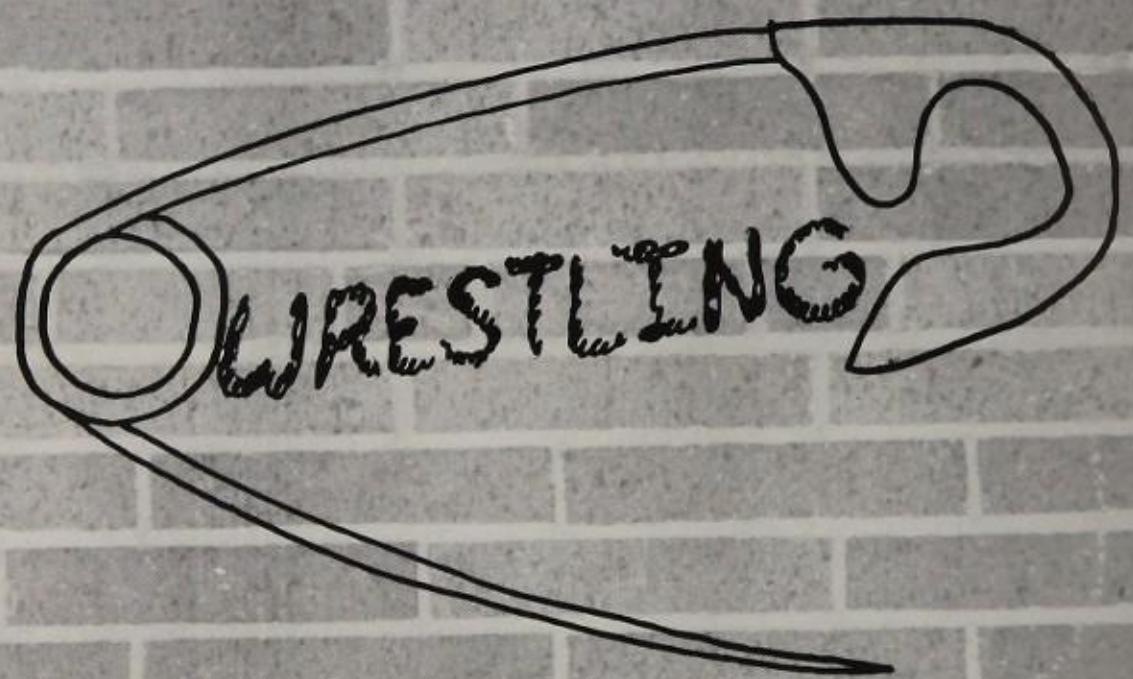

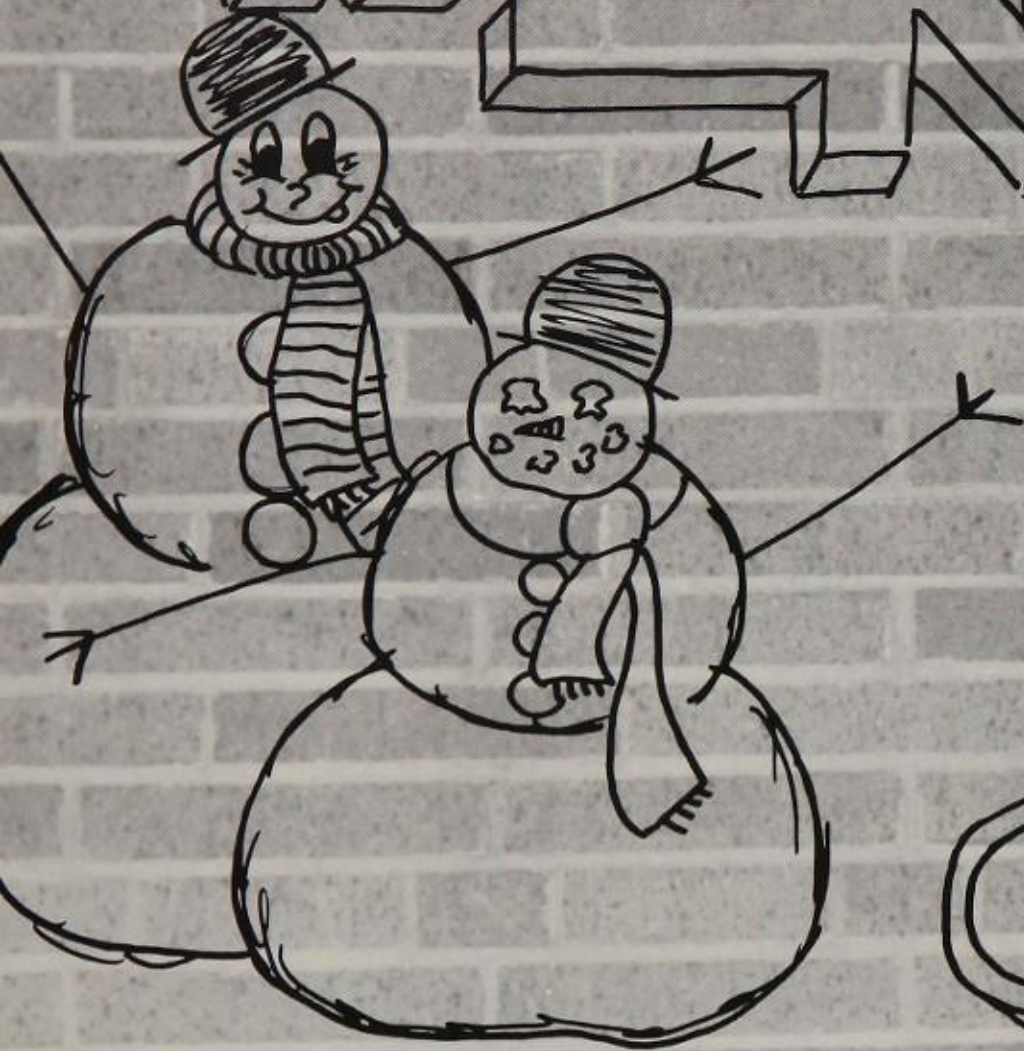

Although 1977 was labeled a "rebuilding" year, the Tiger Golfers finished the season with 20 wins, 8 losses, and one tie. As Coach Costill predicted 20 wins this year, he also made the same prediction for '78. He expects with the improvement of the 12 returning underclassmen to have a tough team next year. Fifteen men made up the largest team in Falls history in '77.

In the Adkins-Evens Invitational, Rick Dodson and Buzz Disalvo combined for 5 under par to lead Falls to victory. Buzz Disalvo shot a 31 which is 6 under par in the Barberton-Brookside meet. Rick Dodson shot a 75 in District Finals, with a 74 qualifying as medalist. For the 4th straight year the Tiger Golfers have participated in the District Finals. They defeated every team on the schedule through matches or tournaments.

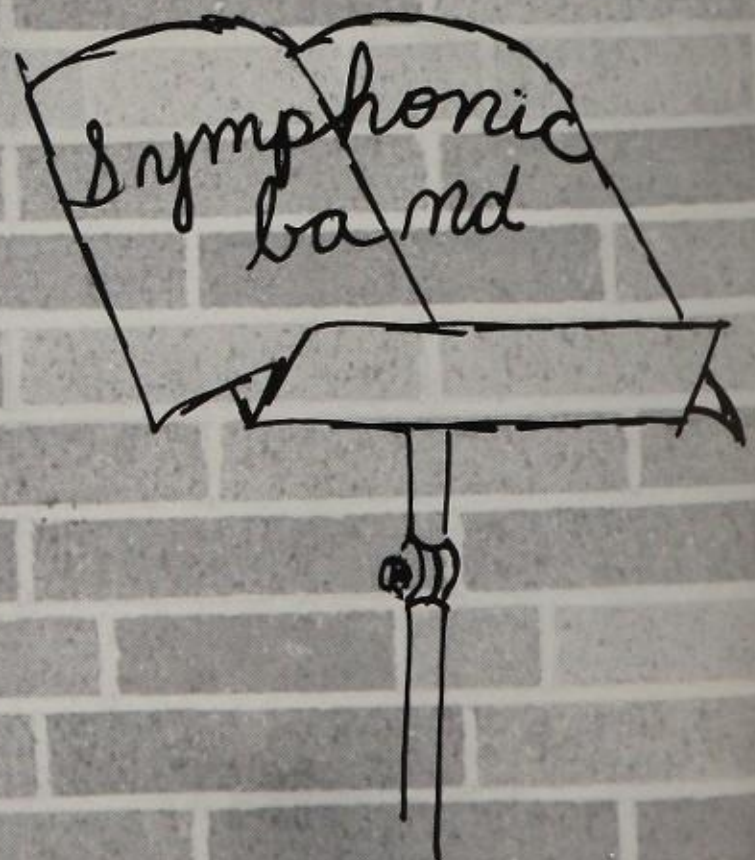

Coach Costill said that the golfers must learn to be more aggressive and competitive in order to be successful in competing next year with the Metro schools which he said is one of the finest and toughest leagues in Northern Ohio.

Candles and choruses

One of the oldest Christmas traditions of Falls High is the candlelight Vespers Service traditionally held on the Sunday afternoon before Christmas. Vesper's oldest record dates back to 1948, and in those 30 years the format has remained unchanged. This year, the A Cappella, directed by Mr. Ulrich, presented songs keeping with the traditional service. In addition to A Cappella, the M&M's were featured as a chambered choir.

Presented with the cooperation of the choir, M&M's, the student council, this year's annual Christmas program reflected a more traditional meaning. Entitled "Christmas Is," the program gave the different meanings of Christmas which people share. It ended with the audience standing to the choir's rendition of the Hallelujah Chorus.

1. Entertaining at the Teacher's Tea are the M&M's who also perform for student activities like the Christmas play. 2. Almost every teacher attends, which transforms a quiet library into a festive atmosphere.

Record turnout for tea

Student Council sponsored the annual Christmas Teacher's Tea on December 22. Invitations were extended to every member of the faculty and staff and the response was so great that they went through two bowls of punch in less than one hour. Members of Student Council supplied a variety of baked goods and also the beverages.

Entertaining at the tea were the Melodymen and Melodettes who were the highlight of the afternoon by singing their wide range of Christmas songs and carols. When finished, the M&M's joined Student Council in finishing off the left-overs.

5 named to All-District Team

RIDING 14 wins, looking for the 15th, the Girls Basketball team fell short in the last few seconds. Before a capacity crowd at Tallmadge High School, the girls lost to Barberton, the District winners, 51-49. In the first round of play, Falls annihilated Copley with a score of 78-33; this was a game that broke a team scoring record. For excellent tournament play, Sherry Harrison, Tammy Wert and Kim Thayer were named to the first team of the All-District Tournament Team. Peggy Zanin and Ellen Ferrato received Honorable Mention for their basketball skills. In addition to having 5 members chosen, Kim Thayer was named tri-captain of the All-District Tourney Team, as well as being placed in the UPI All-Ohio High School Girls Basketball Team.

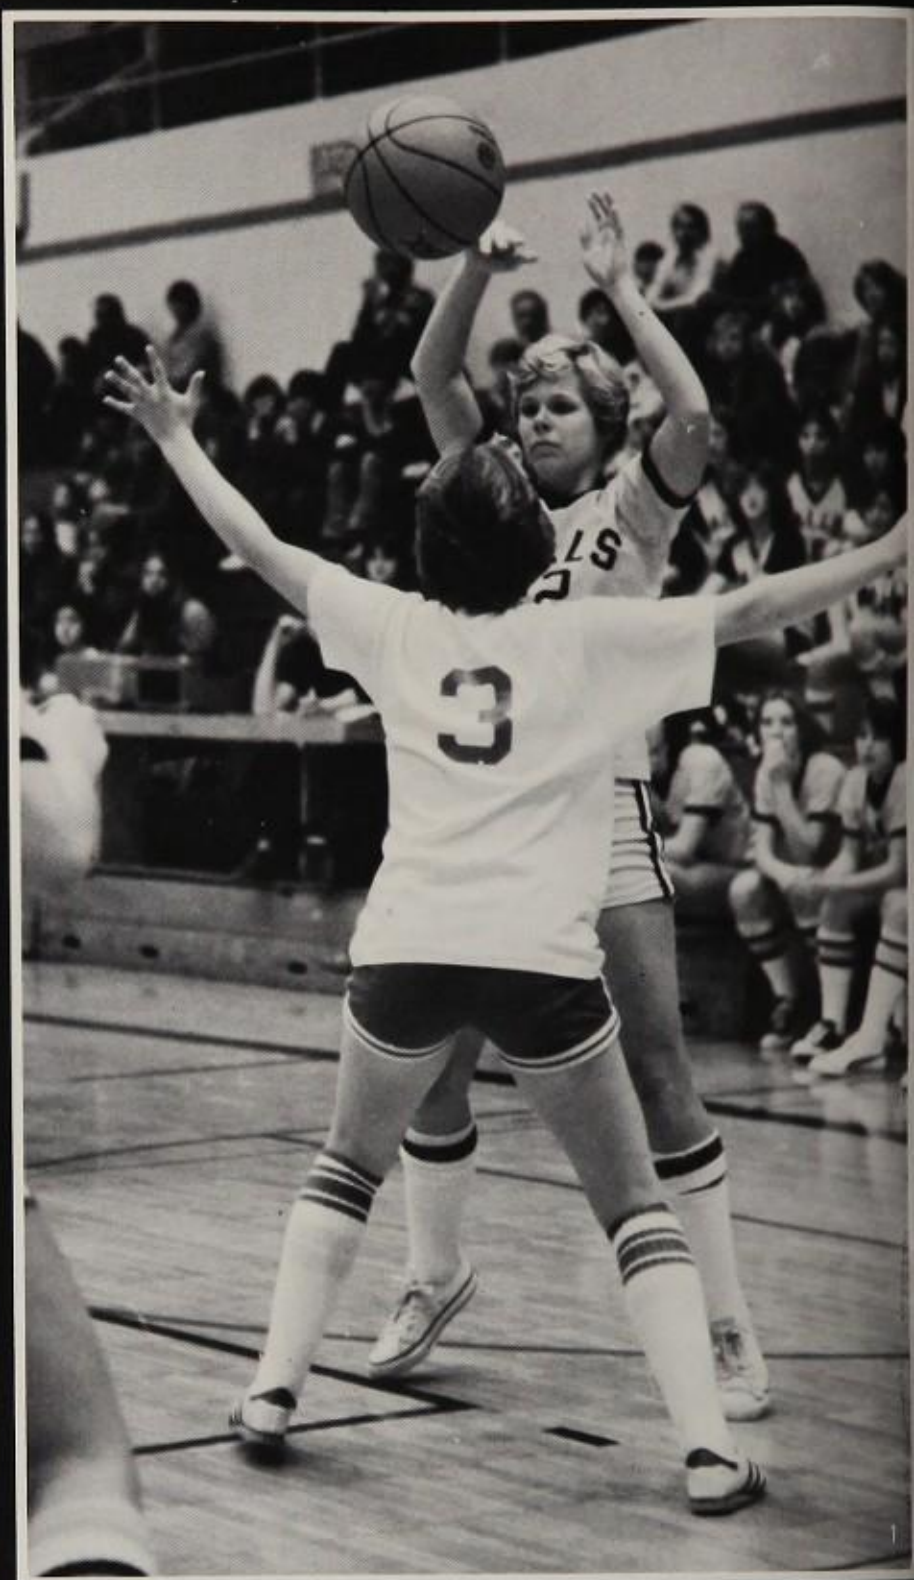

1. Varsity co-captain, Kim Thayer, pulls down a game high of 17 rebounds during the St. V. game. 2. Beating Ravenna 48-14 proved that this year the Ravens were no match for the Tigers. 3. Junior forward, Tammy Wert, pumps in 2 points. 4. Besides being a good outside shooter, junior guard, Ellen Ferrato leads the team in foul shooting with 80%. 5. As tension mounts, teammates and fans anticipate another victory as the girls win 13 straight. 6. Gay Gindlesberger, a junior, scored the final points that broke the previous team scoring records exceeding 71 points. 7. Peggy Zanin, a senior co-captain, shoots 64% from the foul line while sophomore sister Brigid looks on. 8. Head coach for 7 years, Mrs. Montgomery has a very impressive combined record of 124 wins and 35 losses. 9. Keen outside shooting and inside quickness are assets to senior Sherry Harrison.

1st state rating places girls 15th

THIS YEAR marked the first time ever for the girls basketball team to be ranked in the UPI State Ratings. They were 15th of all the AAA high school teams with a varsity record of 14-2; J.V.'s also carried a winning season of 8-4. Leading them was sophomore Priscilla Alleman, who led in rebounds with 82 and in points with 100. Junior captains Lorrie Sharp and Carol Hohman also added fine play as they led in the J.V. assist category.

An over-all record of 14-2 equalled that of last year. Recipient of the Offensive Player of the Year Award, Kim Thayer, and her co-captain, Peggy Zanin led the team to success. Kim has led the team for the past 3 years in total points and total rebounds and for the 78 season, she scored 202 points and had 113 rebounds. Also receiving honors, senior Sherry Harrison was chosen Defensive Player of the Year. She, too, was a leading rebounder with 96 and scorer with 130 points. Peggy Zanin, a three letter winner, received an award for the most assists in one season, 62. While these three seniors leave, eight varsity players will return next year.

Eight is not enough

Although there were many individual bright spots on this year's team the swimmers ended with a 6-3 record this season. Eight strong swimmers were not enough to recapture the successes of previous years. Other members of the team were in a rebuilding stage as novices gained experience. Under the instruction of Dr. Bell, the relay team bettered the school record by .02 at the High School Districts. The two divers who represented Falls at the High School Districts were Brian McCoy and Tom Robinson.

Greg Cook also placed 7th in the individual medley with a time of 2:00, and a 10th in the butterfly with a time of 2:10. Bob Theune also participated in the 100 yd. freestyle in the State meet.

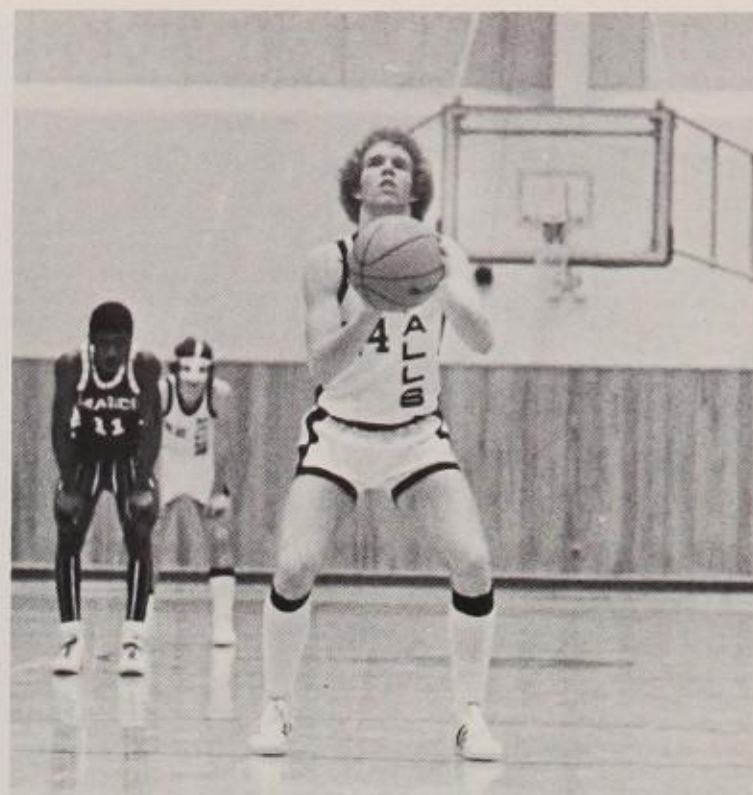

1. Coach Lane has been guiding basketball players at Falls for 12 years, accumulating a 167-89 record. 2. Senior Dave Siebert shared the backcourt duties with Tom Kaser. 3. High scorer for the season, co-captain Mickey McMillan, drives to the hoop two of his 309 points. 4. For the first time since 1972, the Tigers were an independent. 5. Mark Darby played good defense before a near capacity crowd against the Magics. 6. Fan support and the Tiger spirit are evident at basketball games. 7. Junior Greg Hanna came off the bench to play a vital role in many games.

Tigers go out with a roar

A slow start and a strong finish typified the season for the Tigers who finished with a 11-9 record. The Tigers were faced with two major obstacles: tough competition and no returning starters. Seniors Tom Kaser, Mickey McMillan, and Dave Siebert led the young team, by example, against opponents such as state AAA runner-up Central-Hower and powerhouses Barberton and Canton Timken. Co-captain Mickey McMillan led the team in scoring, rebounding, and assists in his first year as a starter. The highlight of the season was McMillan's 35 points in the Tiger victory over Warren Western Reserve. He made 15 of 16 shots to register the most points scored by a Tiger player in the last 14 years. Kaser and Siebert filled the guard positions with experience and fine play. After gaining experience early in the campaign, the Tigers won 7 of their last 8 games with each of the losses by two points including the sectional final defeat to Akron East, 63-61.

Tigers look to future

Two surprisingly good players this season were Steve Ziants and Pat Gryvalsky. Juniors Dan Lebo and Steve Ziants manned the forward positions early in the year and provided the Tigers with some scoring and rebounding power. Steve finished as the 3rd leading scorer with 193 points. 6'5" sophomore Pat Gryvalsky handled the center position. Pat did an exceptional job for the Tigers as he gained experience throughout the year. The bench played an important role as juniors Mark Darby, Greg Hanna, and Dave Alexander came into many games at crucial moments to push the Tigers to a victory.

1. Sophomore starter Pat Gryvalsky was the team's second leading scorer and rebounder. 2. Dave Alexander lends a helping hand in a 66-43 victory over Rocky River. 3. The majorettes entertained the parents and fans during half-time. 4. Co-captain Tom Kaser played an important role at guard, but had to miss 3 games due to a broken nose. 6. 1. Chip Pulley was instrumental in the 63-58 win over Barberton. 2. Sophomore guard Dave DeSantis was high scorer against St. V.-St. M. with 20 points. 3. Starter John Jordan was the 2nd leading scorer for the Tigers. 4. Forward Chip Pulley led the J.V. team with a season total of 206 points. 5. FRONT ROW: K. Rhodes, T. Leippley, D. Marsico; ROW TWO: L. Gulajski, S. Shoults, B. Orozco. 6. In an 80-58 romp over Rocky River, Scott Taylor guns home two more points.

J.V.'s prove promising

Included in the season's twelve wins were triumphs over Central-Hower and Barberton, two teams with a strong basketball tradition. Composed of all sophomores, the young team played well under pressure as evident by the number of close victories. But, they also demonstrated a scoring punch by accumulating 92 points against Garfield. Two players, Chip Pulley and Dave DeSantis, moved up to the varsity for the last three games. DeSantis proved to be a valuable asset by scoring a game high of 17 points in the victory over Kent Roosevelt.

FRONT ROW: B. Goodwill, D. DeSantis, D. Kuncce, D. Breehl, S. Taylor, B. Webb; ROW TWO: C. Pulley, M. Moles, A. Harris, M. Sibley, J. Barrett, J. Jordan, C. Ferrell.

Council bleeds and dances

Headed by senior president Tom Kaser, Student Council was off to a good start this year by selling 400 mums for the Fall Homecoming. Once again, Student Council sponsored Teacher's Tea and the Bloodmobile. At the Bloodmobile, the Red Cross had 205 donors and collected 186 pints of blood. Student Council held Twirp Day on March 18 and Twirp Dance on the following night, March 19. "Star Wars," was this year's theme. The dance was well attended by all and the costumes were very original; many showed up at the dance as characters from the movie "Star Wars." Among its members, Student Council has 15 graduating seniors.

1. Davy Carey and Doug Raess listen closely while the Student Council meeting is in session. 2. A free exchange of ideas is vital for Student Council to accomplish much throughout the year. 3. Concert and varsity turn black and gold

The end of the 1977-78 marching band season brought about a change of structure for the symphonic and concert bands. Instead of three former levels, symphonic, concert and varsity bands, those not chosen for symphonic band were reapportioned to form the black and gold band. The sections directed by Mr. Feldbush and Mr. Youtz, united for two main concerts. The first, February 12, and the second, April 27, spotlighted the black and gold band.

1. Practices held 4th hour help Eva Currier, black band member, perfect her style.
2. The stage is set for the black band at their February 12th performance.
3. Saxophone players, such as Jim Kaiser, Matt Ruley and Tony Pells are often seen wearing their "Saxophone Power" t-shirts.
4. Members of the gold band play music ranging from classical to pop.
5. The xylophone, played by Doug Ferrel and Glen Wood, adds a nice touch to the gold band's performance.
6. Todd Steele, Glen Wood and Doug Ferral, of the percussion section, add life to the gold band's practice session.

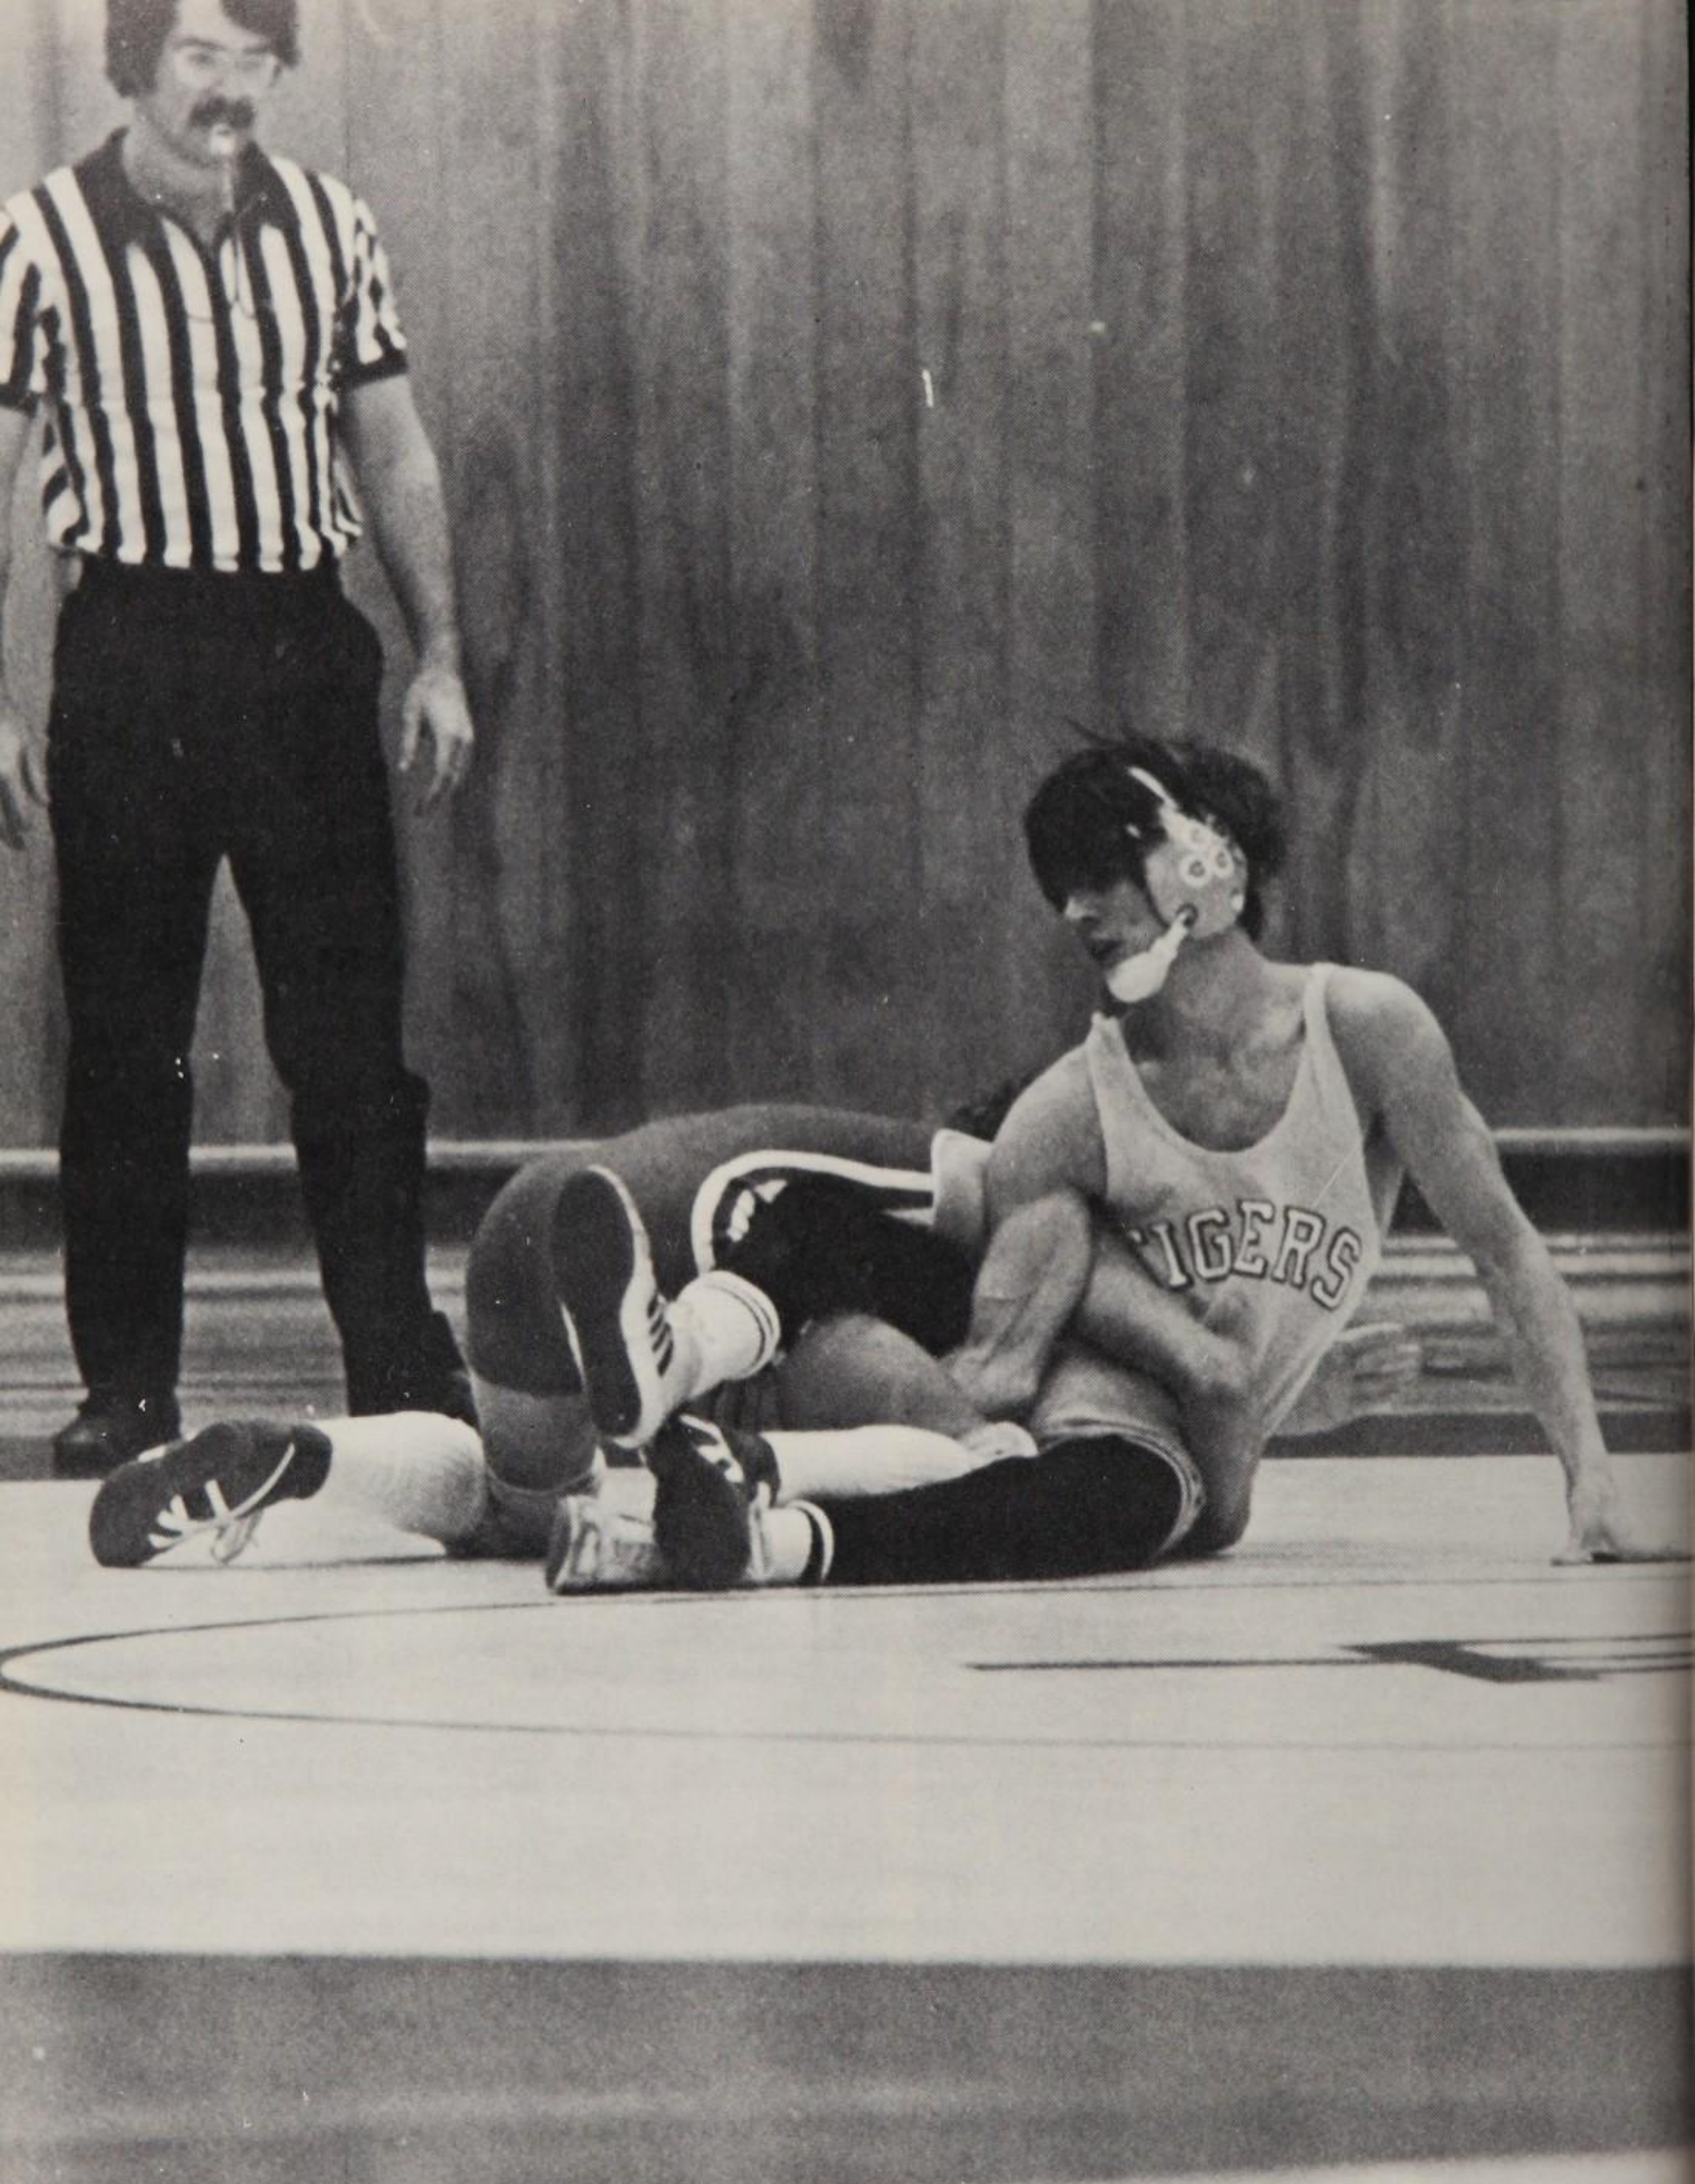

Top talent paddles to New York

Top Marching Band talent is selected every year to form the Cuyahoga Falls High School Symphonic Band. Under the direction of Mr. Corbissaro, the band performed three concerts; one in February, March and April. For a special tour early in February, the band also traveled to Allegheny, New York. Music presented ranged from ethnic to "semi-classical" to contemporary. Vocal soloists for the band were Jocelyn Sawyer and Berry Hartz. Later, the Allegheny band came to Cuyahoga Falls and presented a concert.

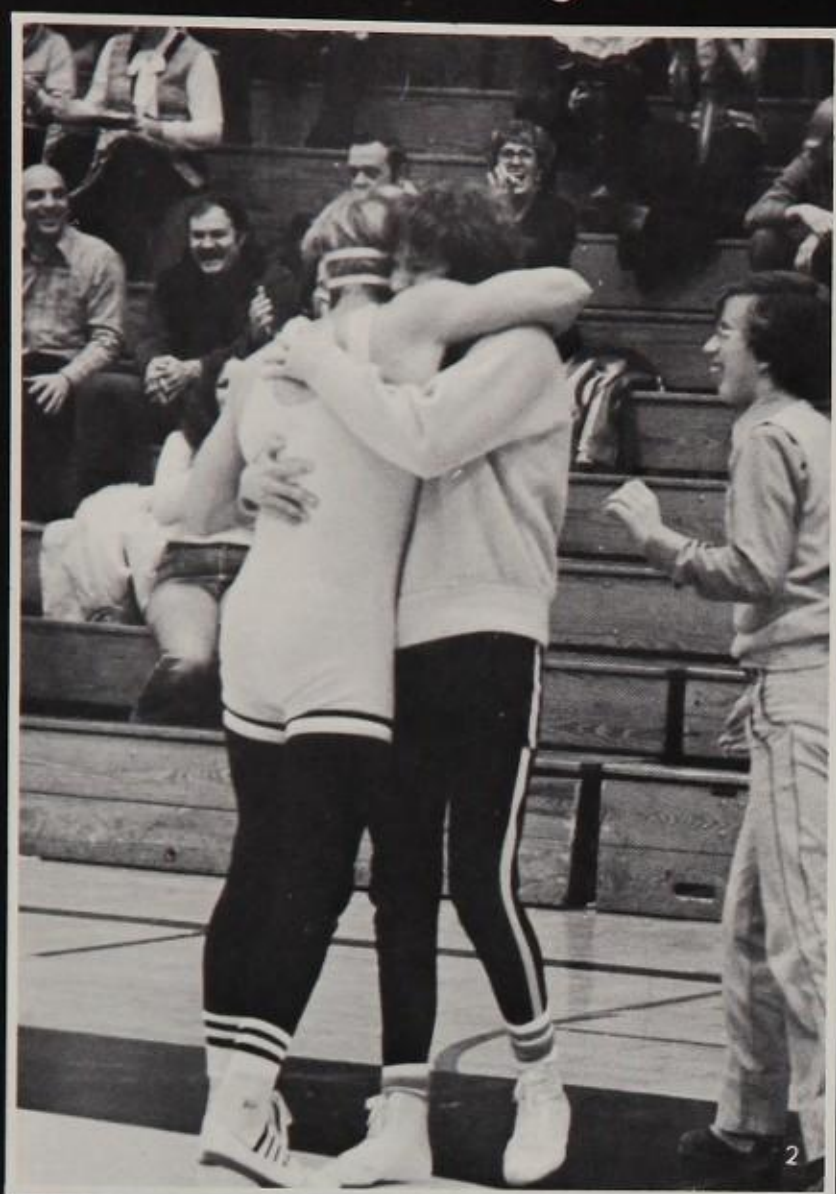

February third may have been the longest night in the life of some of the band members. Fifty musicians participated in a 24 hour ping-pong-athon, of which 24 of them ponged the entire 24 hours. These 24 students had a total time of 552 hours — the equivalent of one person playing 24 hours a day for 23 days! 1,700 dollars was collected from sponsors, and used to finance the band's tour to New York.

1. Symphonic band members June Ellsworth and Dawn Harris "ping-pong" their way to a New York band tour.
2. With every whack of the paddle, Dave Layer earns dollars of the $1,700 the pong-a-thon collected.
3. Mr. Corbissero, who is a member of the Akron Symphony Orchestra, directs the symphonic band in one of their three performances.
4. Announcing pong-a-thon results are Paul Stusaker and Greg Harris.
5. Practices every day for a half-hour keep the symphonic band in tune.
6. Clarinet players, Becky Wright and Dawn Harris' practicing pays off at a symphonic band performance.

Best record in ten years

THROUGH GREAT team effort the '77-'78 wrestling team finished the season with the best record in ten years. Coach Bilderback said that the team was the best balanced one in many years, scoring points consistently in all weight classes. Their tournaments were also improved over the past seasons. In the Hudson Tournament, the Tigers finished 5th with 5 wrestlers placing. In the Sectionals, seven placed: Captain Greg Sibley, Don Coy, Todd Spicer, Terry Brady, Doug Dix, Don Malene, and Eric Smith, and the Tigers finished 2nd to an always tough Nordon. Doug Dix, the only wrestler representing Falls in the State Tournament, came home with a respectable 5th place finish.

1. Steve Labbe, with a 14-4 win-loss record, attempts a reversal in this meet.
2. Dave Lewis, having one of the best season records, is being congratulated by his younger brother, Dan Lewis.
3. Don Malene, a varsity wrestler who placed 4th in Sectionals, is setting up for one of his 15 season takedowns.
4. Tony Herdina looks to the coach for suggestions.
5. The "cradle," one of the many different wrestling moves, is being demonstrated here.

Three have winning records

ON THE JV team 3 wrestlers Jeff Palmer, Steve Case, and Alan Brink, had winning records. At the Hudson Tournament, 4 wrestlers placed.

Junior Varsity provides experience for wrestlers so that when they do make varsity they will have mat experience. This year the JV team was 6-3. One of the problems with the JV's is that they never had a team larger than 9 out of 13 weights, and it is costly to forfeit in so many weight classes, but Coach West feels that many of the JV wrestlers will be varsity wrestlers next year, and he hopes for great things from many of the wrestlers.

1. Terry Brady taking 4th place in Sectionals went on to compete in districts. 2. Cheering on the sidelines is Doug Dix who took many honors this year including the most wins and the best season record. 3. Wrestling in the 126 weight class, Troy Palazzo placed 3rd in the Hudson Tournaments and won this meet. 4. Coach West looks to Todd Nicol for many great things next year. 5. Doug Dix placed 3rd in Hudson Tournaments, 2nd in Sectionals, 2nd in Districts, and 5th in the State meet. 6. This year's wrestling team ended the season with a 9-4 record which was the result of many efforts and a well balanced team that scored consistently in every weight class. 7. Dave Lewis, with the fastest pin and the most pins this year, shoots a takedown. FRONT ROW: T. Palazzo, D. Malene, D. Coy, G. Sibley — captain, S. Labbe, D. Burt, T. Brady; ROW 2: M. Dance patrons take a trip to the Orient Decorating for the Winter Homecoming was a job for the tigerbackers' imaginations. An oriental theme called for Japanese lanterns, Chinese fans, and exotic ferns. With the help of the girls, the All-American Cuyahoga Falls High School gymnasium was transformed into a far-eastern enchantment. Their work was undoubtedly appreciated by the evening's romantics.

1. Lynn Autz holds the ladder while Laura Yoho slides off the bleachers.
2. Laura and her fellow Tigerbackers try their best to camouflage the bleachers.
3. The King and Queen will sit in an oriental throne as decorated by Lynn Rehs.
4. Attaching streamers is one of the easier jobs Kim Babb did for decorating.

Winter dance gets snow job

In the midst of the worst winter ever, an Oriental Dream was being created in the Falls High gymnasium; however, below zero temperatures, which led to a water main break, postponed the 1978 Winter Sports Dance. The dance, originally scheduled for 8:00 January 21, was held February 18. After the damage and mess had been remedied, all was (seemingly) well. More complications arose, however, when the original band couldn't make the rescheduled date, and Stargazer was booked for the evening. Although the theme song "We're All Alone" was not in their repertoire, the band entertained couples with 3 hours of enjoyable music.

1. Gary Krisher and Peggy Zanin share a quiet moment alone.
2. Couples dance to the music of Stargazer.
3. Cookies and punch were provided by Tigerbackers.
4. 1978 WINTER HOMECOMING COURT: D. Seibert, M. Mitchell, T. Kaser, D. Lewis, P. Zanin, J. Adam, M. Quirk, L. Sutter (crown bearer), P. Bevere, D. Lewis, S. Harrison, D. Roepke, R. White, G. Sibley, A. Bingham, M. McMillan.
5. Paul Revere and Mary Quirk share the king and queen's dance.
6. Meriruth Gray and Pat Harvey watch as other couples dance to "Baby Come Back."
7. Sharing a table decorated with plants from Green Circle plant center are Paul Cain, Martha Burr ridge, Amy Parker and Eric Garman.

1. Sophomores like Pam Fanelly make next season look bright. 2. Cathy Leitzell takes up right where she left off last year as one of the team's high scorers. 3. Leading the team in three of the four individual events is Amy Kraszewski. 4. Waiting impatiently for her injury to heal is Bev Lutz. 5. Amy Kraszewski, the only girl to qualify for individual competition at state level, demonstrates an arabesque.

6. Co-captain Amy Bingham is an important member of the team.
7. Taking a break at intermission are Chris Froelich, Amy Bingham, and Pam Fanelly.

Four are topped

A season of records

Accomplishments were numerous in the 1977-78 Girls' Gymnastics season. Highlighting the girls' 10-1 season was Amy Kraszewski who set a record for the highest individual all-around score. Also, in only their second year in team competition on the state level, the team finished in an impressive sixth place. Amy Bingham and Leisha Lewis were the captains of this year's team which set a school record for most points scored by any girls' gymnastic team. The coming season appears promising as twelve of the fourteen are returning.

Girls' ten wins are tops

Reflecting on the Girls' Gymnastic season, evidence points to an outstanding job. Aurora, their first opponent, was shut out by 82.2 points and the team went on to be eligible for sectional competition with the following winning places: Chris Plazak, third on beam, second on bars; Amy Kraszewski, fifth on floor ex, fifth on vaulting, fourth on bars; Cathy Leitzell, sixth on bars, and Amy Bingham, eleventh on vaulting and floor ex. After sectionals, the girls were then eligible for district competition where they defeated Boardman, who was first in the Youngstown sectionals and the only team which defeated the Tigers during interscholastic competition. Amy Kraszewski was the only individual who qualified for state competition and she placed eighth on bars but the team as a whole placed sixth which ended the best season ever recorded.

Sandy Wilkinson, a promising sophomore, performs a back handspring. 2. Gymnastics can be hard on the hands, so hard that callouses must be scraped off with razor blades. 3. Amy Krazewski led the team in floor-ex competition and is seen here executing a back-walkover. 4. Lining up at the Triangular Meet are Hills, Liberty, and Firestone. 5. Bev Lutz now recovered from her arm injury, is seen here poised on the vaulting beam. 6. Sophomore Sandy Wilkinson, who placed fifth for total team points scored, competes in floor-exercises.

We've got "yearbookability!"

'78 was a year of "firsts" for the CUYAHOGAN staff: the 1977 yearbook received a first rating in NOSPA competition, there was a yearbook office for the first time, this was the first year for staff T-shirts, and for the first time, the staff wasn't divided into sections but rather into five teams; one team chose to deal with all activities while the others covered both sports and activities and everyone pulled together to create and assemble the class section.

With the advent of a tighter budget than ever before, and the need to lay off teachers because of decreasing enrollment, the Board of Education mandated that all curricular and co-curricular classes have a minimum of fifteen students. '77-'78 then was the last year for a staff of ten, which had been maintained so that each student could experience all levels of yearbooking.

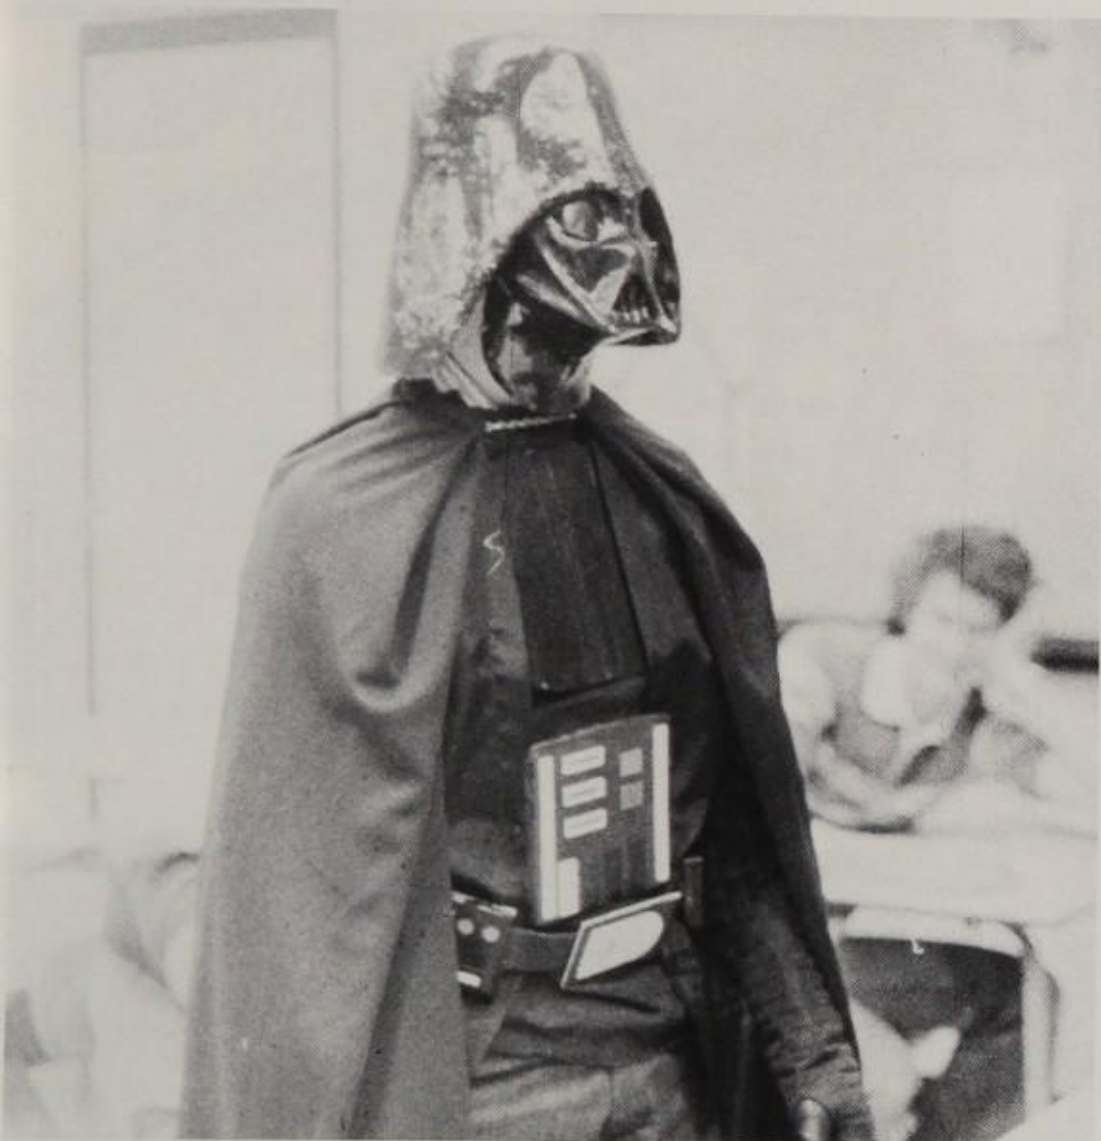

1. Star athlete, Kim Thayer is the staff's athletic resource person. 2. "J.B." as the staff affectionately calls her, Mrs. Brower is in her sixth year of teaching "yearbookability." 3. Always seemingly unorganized, Val Stromquist cheerfully completes all assignments. 4. Staff photographer, Bob Williams, is run ragged by the staff but he's used to it now. 5. Sporting the first staff T-shirts ever are the ten who create the award-winning CUYAHOGAN. 6. Mike Shell is our "man Friday" — always willing to help out, especially to run errands. 7. His sharp sense of humor makes Kevin Schultz a fun member of the staff. 8. By writing for the local paper and working on the yearbook staff, Kathi LaPolla gets practical experience for her future journalism career. 9. By using the hunt-'n'-peck method of typing, Nancy Lowery finishes her layouts on time. 10. Famous for her spring trip to Florida, Dee Clegg is always ready to quietly assist on any section. 11. Poor Leigh Lloyd, she missed one Monday and after that everyone would say, "It must be Monday, Leigh isn't here." 12.-13. Sue Gilchrist and Mark Janshego are a constant source of entertainment as they argue their way through layout designs.

WILD AND CRAZY

On March 17 the Falls High student body took a day from the normal routine for the annual Twirp Day. Participation was good among the 2700 students and teachers. Some came dressed as leprechauns, playboy bunnies, clowns, rats, and farmers. A popular item of apparel was the rubber-nose glasses made famous by comedian Steve Martin. Traditionally following Twirp Day is the Twirp Dance which was held Saturday night.

1. Senior, Diane Schieble participates in the Twirp Day fun. 2. Wild and crazy Michelle Cardenas dresses as Steve Martin, this year's top comedian. 3. Believe it or not, these two old men are really Todd Roberson and Denny Dunagan. 4. Student council members: Monnie Olesky, Dave Roepke, Nancy Lowery, Leigh Lloyd, and Laurie Holforty personify "Fruit of the Loom" underwear. 5. One of the many "Rickey Rats" was senior Linda Harrison. 6. Carol Wilson dresses to the new fad of Punk Rock musicians. 7. Blending in with the other twirps of the day is junior Mark Evans. 8. To keep up with the Star Wars theme, Dave Chrin dresses as Darth Vader.

THE FORCE WAS WITH US

Star Wars characters, Jay Jones and Kathy Wolf, came to the Falls High gym March 18th and walked off with the first prize in the best costume contest. Beside the many characters from Star Wars, playboy bunnies, killer bees, cowboys, roller skaters, and a variety of others filled the gym floor for the Twirp Dance. Hula-Hoop contests, sack races and the parade of Twirps were among some of the festivities enjoyed by the Twirps. Also, computer match-ups at the dance provided a new way for people to meet each other.

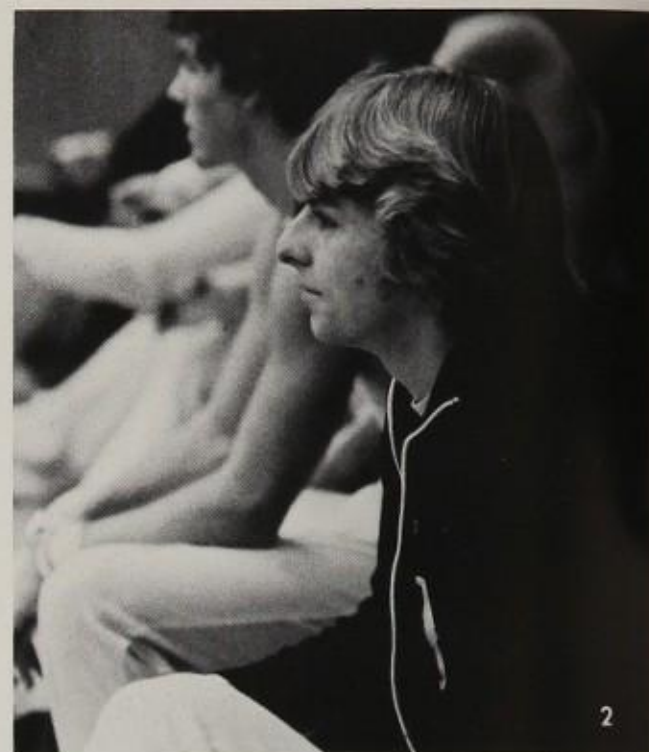

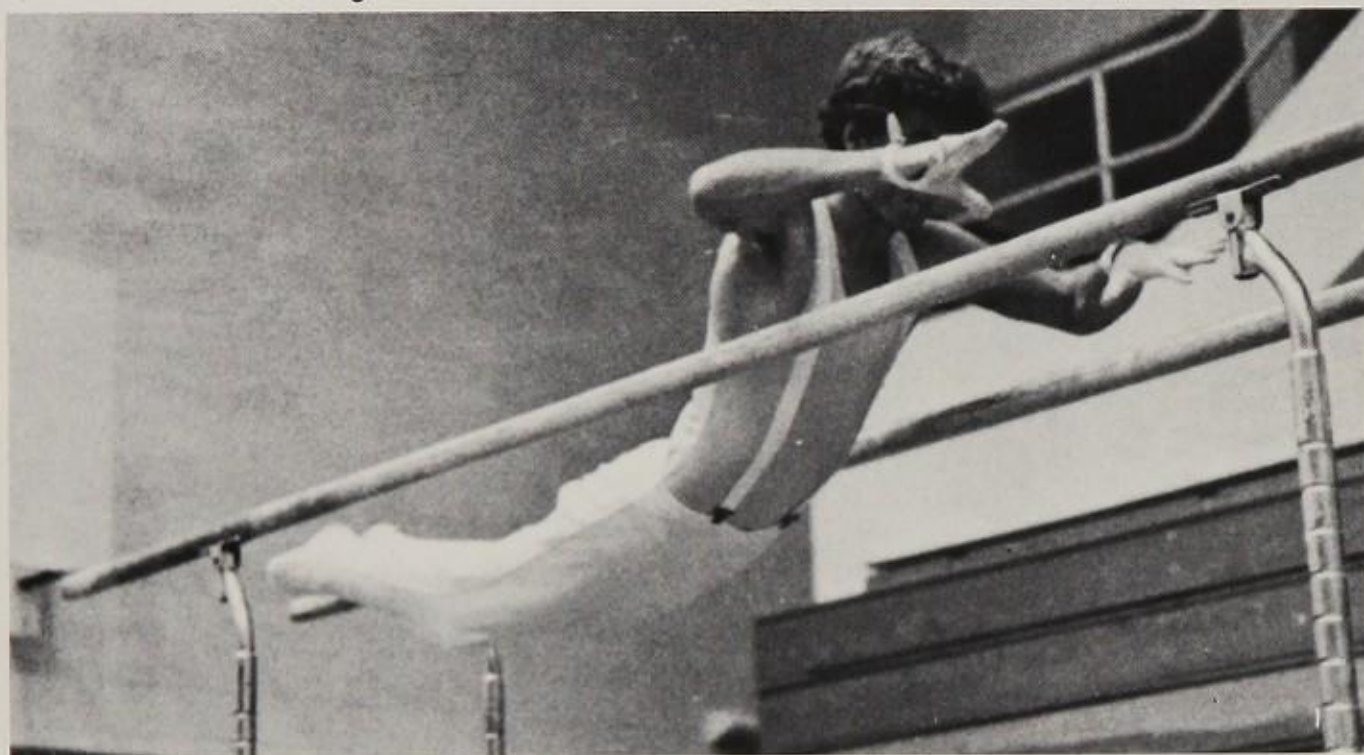

1. Winning the best costume award is Princess Leia and Obi-Wan Kenobi, alias Kathy Wolf and Jay Jones. 2. Senior Class President, Ruth Giffin, helps to make the Computer Dance a success. 3. Crayola crayons Chris Lane, Teri Moore, Kathy Eves, Jean Seigman, and Carmilla Modugno add color to the Twirp Dance. 4. Roller Skater Barb Perzanowski takes a break from the action.

1. Doug Lewis took an impressive fourth place on the parallel bars in regional competition.
2. Intently observing his team compete is Tim Kidwell.
3. Chris Kotys demonstrates an "L" hold on the rings.
4. State champion Chris Kotys displays his winning form on the pommel horse.
5. Lowering to an "L" cross on the rings is captain Doug Lewis.
6. Mark Kearns and John Weisenmiller check on the team's scores.
7. Holding a back lever on the rings is junior Mark Kearns.
8. Mike Joseph, Bob Hill, Doug Lewis, Chris Kotys, and Bob Whelan applaud their teammates efforts.
9. Mark Kearns, a promising prospect for next year's team, exhibits a press to handstand on the rings.

Falls dominance continues in '78

Turning out another outstanding performance this year, the Tiger gymnasts took third place in state competition. This accomplishment was icing on the cake to a season which was marred by only one loss in nine dual meets. Other team achievements included third place in the Martins Ferry Invitational and a second place in the regionals. By outscoring their opponents by an average of 37 points in dual meets, the Tigers proved that they are still one of the most dominant teams in the area. Next year's team appears strong and the Tiger's consistent outstanding performances in boys gymnastics seem to show no signs of coming to an end.

2. One of the three members of the state team is senior Doug Lewis. 3. Helping the team achieve their eight wins in dual meets is captain Doug Lewis. 4. Placing in seven events on the regional level is junior Chris Kotys. 5. Taking four individual awards in state competition is Chris Kotys. 6. Versatile Mark Kearns demonstrates a starting press on the parallel bars. 7. Placing fourth in regional competition and seventh at state on the parallel bars is Doug Lewis. 8. Displaying a giant swing on the high bar is Doug Lewis.

Success!

Falls High gymnasts not only had a successful season as a team, there were also many outstanding individual performances. Steve Laney, after a successful regional meet, went on to claim sixth place on the pommel horse at state. Doug Lewis also gave an impressive performance at Regionals and then went on to state where he placed seventh on the parallel bars. Finally, Chris Kotys took first place all around at Regionals and at state he placed a fantastic first on the pommel horse, second on the highbar, fourth all around and fifth on the parallel bars.

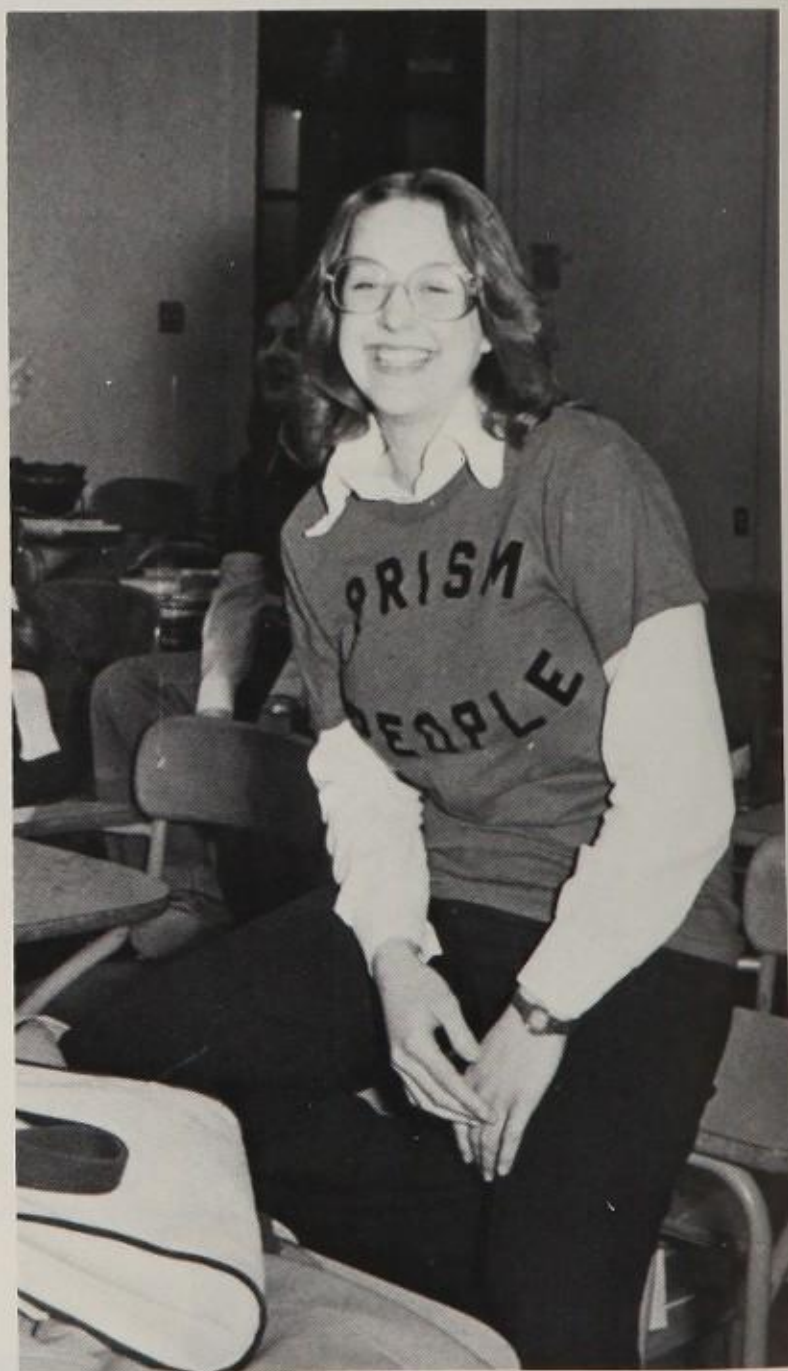

Prism writes final chapter

Due to rising printing costs and decreasing sales, Prism was forced to stop publishing at the conclusion of this school year. In recent years, the staff was put deeper in debt and with the prospect of having a hundred dollar deficit this term, decided that it was no longer feasible to publish. However, the quality of the current staff's work has not suffered from the loss. Officers for this year's publication were: Brenda Bolantz (editor), Mary Quirk (business manager), and Kathi LaPolla (publicity chairman). Ann May did the illustrations for the '78 Literary Magazine. A check for ten dollars was awarded to Bev Ott for the best entry.

1. Contributing a great deal to the poetry section of this year's literary magazine is Tam Cosgrove. 2. Kathi LaPolla did the design for this year's Prism cover. 3. For the first time, the staff sports their own T-shirts. 4. Prism meets after school every Wednesday and individuals come in during study halls to screen material along with their adviser, Mrs. Kuruce.

STAFF: Wendy Werstler, Kevin Kimble, Nancy Milford, Jill Miller, Kathi LaPolla, Brenda Bolanz (editor), Mrs. Kuruze, Cathy Hill, Tam Cosgrove, Mary Quirk, Lori Solter, Karen Dugan.

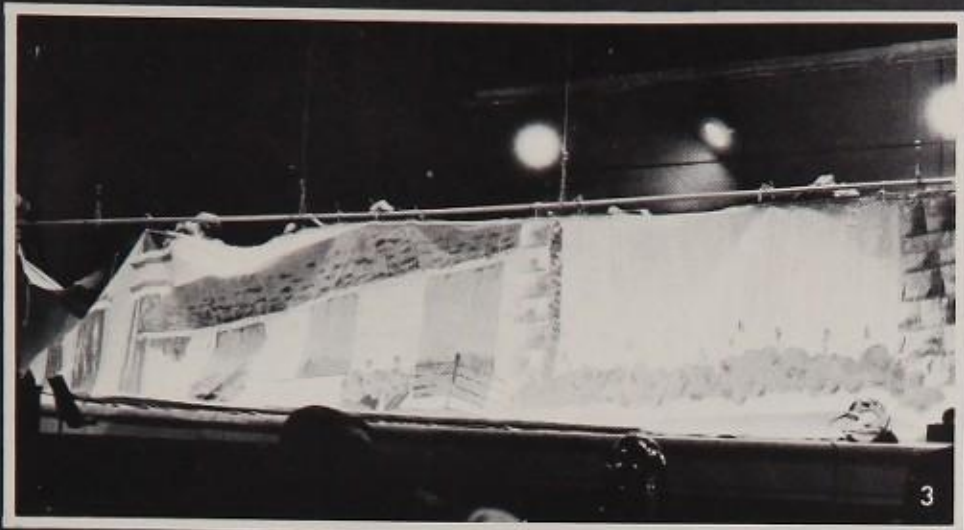

They can "Can-Can" too . . .

AUDITIONS WERE held early in November, 1977 for the twelfth annual Spring Musical, "Can-Can." The cast and crew were smaller than ever before, numbering fifty in the cast with an orchestra of twenty. Approximately twenty grips worked on set construction and backstage, with the help of Mr. Bantum's stage craft students.

Art work and backdrop painting was designed by Mrs. Crystal Brickner, an area artist. Costume rentals, from Cleveland and Kent State University totalled nearly $500.

Under the direction of Mr. Ulrich in charge of music, Miss Murray in charge of acting and Joyce Keegan Flynn in charge of choreography, cast, chorus and dancers worked approximately five hours a day until May 5th, when the show was presented.

1. Can-Can is the twelfth annual Spring Musical presented under the direction of Mr. Peter Ulrich.
2. A 5:30 curtain call the night of the show gives members of the cast, such as Jill Miller, plenty of time to put on make-up and costumes.
3. Backdrops for Can-Can were designed and painted by Mrs. Crystal Brichner, an area artist.
4. Grips are on hand to help apply messy stage make-up.
5. Mary Ann Prevost has performed in many area productions, as well as having had the lead in the past two Falls High musicals.

1. Can-Can dancer, Julie Hunsicker, models a costume rented from a Kent costume agency.

2. Jay Jones as Boris, and Mitch Brown as Claudine, have a lovers' quarrel.

3. Pistache, Mary Ann Prevost, expresses the view that "Every man is a nincompoop."

4. The end of a successful show brings both smiles and sighs of relief from the cast and chorus.

5. Providing amusing anecdotes and a sympathetic ear, Dave Rodriguez waits on tables at the Bal Du Paradis.

6. Brian Harsh gets a lot of practice for his part of the French Judge Aristide, being a 4-year French student.

7. "Never be an artist . . . unless you want to have a wonderful time . . ." is the theme sung by artists Pat Csora, Shawn Cardille, Jay Jones and David Blaine.

Love: "C'est magnifique"

Paris was the setting for the "scandalous" musical by Cole Porter, "Can-Can." The musical revolved around the lives of la Mome, Pistache, a dancer, and Judge Aristide Forestier. Pistache's night club produced an illegal dance show of the can-can, and consequently, young Judge Aristide found himself without his title, but alas, in a triumphant finale, Pistache and Aristide together taught the courtroom the can-can.

1. Pistache, Mary Ann Prevost, is not happy to find her lover, Judge Aristide, Brian Harsh, conversing with one of her dancers, Claudine, Mitch Brown.

2. Laundresses by day, and can-can girls by night, Elaine Figetakis and Robin Graham explain that "from the wicked clutches of romance, (they) have all been segregated."

3. Paul Caine, the high society art critic, Hilaire Fressac, explains his point of view.

4. In order to further his career, sculptor Boris Adzinidzinadze, Jay Jones, persuades Claudine, Mitch Brown, to "... go along with ..." Fressac the art critic.

5. Dancing in "The Garden of Eden" ballet, serpent, Amy Coyle, entrances the audience.

6. Choreography directed by Joyce Keegan Flynn, Can-Can dancer, Barb Brown, forms a chorus line for the Finale with 12 other dancers.

7. The "Bal du Paradis" provides the atmosphere for French men like Bob Usner and Matt Ruley to meet chorus girls Robin Graham and Sue Saviers.

8. A gorilla for the evening of the Quatz' Arts Ball, Jay Jones, Boris models his costume for a fellow artist, Pat Csora.

9. Explaining the life of a dancer to Judge Aristide, who is Brian Harsh, is Mary Ann Prevost.

10. Caught in the act of risque and illegal Can-Can dancing, Pistache and the laundresses are jailed for the evening.

Sets, costumes and royalty eat away at profits.

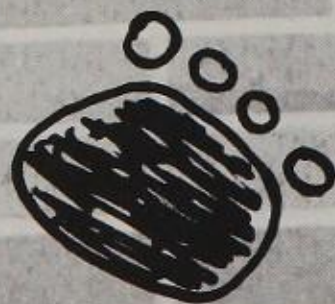

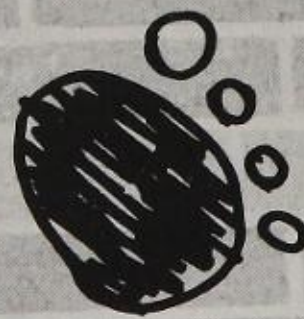

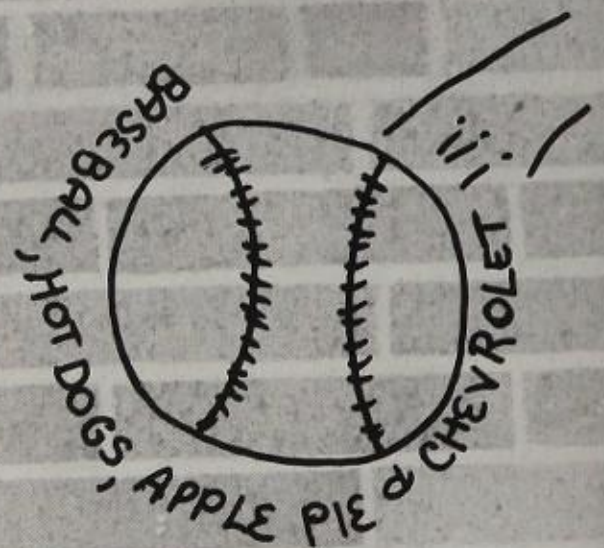

Once again the annual spring musical performed by the Falls High Music Department was a success; however, the expense of producing a success can be quite costly. First of all, permission from the Tams Whitmark Library to produce a complete musical costs 800 dollars. These royalties covered the use of orchestral and choral scores. With rented outfits from Kent State University, costuming the show cost approximately 500 dollars. Nearly 500 dollars was another expense encountered for set construction of flats and backdrops for several acts and scenes. Despite the great expense of producing "Can-Can," the musical nevertheless profited 1000 dollars. This money will cover costs of new vocal scores and equipment needed for future vocal productions.

4. Junior Maureen Boles is one reason why next season looks so bright.
5. Team spirit is never lacking which helps the team perform so well.

Girl swimmers finish proudly

Finishing the season with an impressive eight wins and two losses, the girls swim team had much to be proud of. A third place in the Firestone Relays and a second place in the McKinley Relays followed up a season which began with five straight wins. Falls' only two losses came against Firestone and Upper Arlington and the Tiger's lost to Firestone by just six points. Earlier in the season, the Tigers crushed Firestone by forty points.

1. Maureen Boles is a very impressive diver.
2. Senior Paula Ingram is an outstanding free sprinter who went on to state competition.
3. Sophomore Kim Brown is a promising swimmer.
4. Senior Julie Adam is a three year swimmer who helped the team achieve their 24.4 record.

Senior swimmers excel

Not only did the team as a whole enjoy many achievements, many individuals prospered on the girls' swim team in 1978. Senior Paula Ingram qualified for state competition for the second year in a row as did Leslie Cook. Robin Bell also qualified for state competition this year. Coach Carol Ranney, in only her third year as coach, has had a spectacular twenty-four wins in twenty-eight meets. All in all, the girls swim team has much to be proud of in 1978 and good things to look forward to in 1979.

Cinders fly as records break

The 1977-78 track team slipped from a 10-1 record last year to a 5-2 mark this campaign. Although they had many meets rained out, the Falls cindermen managed to break or tie five school records. The following achievements were attained: Dirk Lohr, High Jump, 6 feet 6 inches; Ray Jackson, Mile Run, 4:31.1; Mark Hutchinson, 300-Meter Low Hurdles, 39.4; Chris Gibson, 440-Yard Dash, 49.7 (tied); and the trio of Mike Authenreith, Mark Hutchinson and Gary Danish in the Long Jump Relay. Gibson's run and Lohr's jump were, respectively, first and second best in the Akron area for the year.

1. The rainy weather caused hazardous track conditions at many of the meets.
2. One member of the baton relay team is Bill Dowey.
3. A "clean" attempt at the high jump is performed by Dave Gaskins.
4. Mike Authenreith participated in many events including the long jump and mile relay.
5. Hoping for a successful vault in the field events is Brian McCoy.
6. Low hurdles is being run by Jerry Mader at the Hudson Relays.
7. Runner's anticipation mounts until the starter's gun goes off.

Track men sprint their way to state

Nine members of the track team qualified for the Districts and six of them brought home first place honors. Dirk Lohr and Chris Gibson won their individual events while the Mile Relay team of Mark Hutchinson, Mike Authenreith, Randy Morton and Chris Gibson had the fastest time of their rivals. Also placing in the Districts were Ray Jackson, Steve Bible, Dan Lebo and Greg Cook. Two on the squad — Lohr and Gibson — proceeded a step farther by qualifying for State. Lohr finished ninth in the high jump and Gibson eighth in the 440-Yard Dash against competition that was the best from Ohio.

Being regional runners-up ties girls for 5th in state

With a winning record of 12-3, Coach Laurel Montgomery and the Girls Softball team made a run at being State qualifiers this year. In District competition, the Tigers defeated Hudson 19-0; Valley Forge 8-3; Brecksville 5-3; and Nordon 12-1. With these wins the girls advanced to the Clyde Regional. There they conquered Shelby 7-6 in the first round. In the Regional final facing a 1-hitter, the girls ended their season one game short of being State qualifiers, but stopping here placed them 5th in the state of AAA schools. The only losses of the year came from Springfield, the state champions; Berea Midpark, state runners-up, and Stow.

Seniors Phyllis Glasgow and Kim Thayer were this year's captains and also 3 yr. letter winners. Outfielder and catcher, Glasgow, led in triples hit. Short-stop Thayer led in batting with an average of .425, stolen bases, RBI's and carried the highest On Base average of .623. Thayer and Monica Mondozi led in sacrifices, and Carol Hohman led in the home run department. With only 4 seniors graduating; Phyllis Glasgow, Cathy Hurd, Juli Mains, and Kim Thayer, things look very good for next year as both pitchers return placing five senior starters on next year's roster.

Girls pitch, hit and catch their way to regionals

Sound defense and pitching were the major reasons the Girl's Softball team entered the Regional final game in the first softball State Tournament ever. Sophomore Tarla Leippy came in for many pitching reliefs and combined with Connie Seiler for a 1-hitter as well as being an excellent outfielder. With an over-all record of 9-1, Seiler pitched a no-hitter to Nordon in the District final game and a 2-hitter against Berea Midpark in the Regional final game. On the year, Leippy struck out 60 batters and Seiler 84. Reaching the Regional final was not only a break through for Coach Montgomery's softball team, but for the school. This is one of the First Falls teams to ever go this far in a State sponsored tournament.

Music marches through old times

1978 brought about a change in the traditional theme format of the Musical Horizons show. This year's show was presented as a chronology of music in the U.S. from 1900-1978. Goldtones opened the show with a Carl Newman arrangement of the 1900's hit "Birth of the Blues." Moving further down the time line of music, Carol Wilson, accompanied by the Goldtones, sang "Bill Bailey." Mary Ann Prevost and Brian McCoy were featured in a song, dance and drama representation of "All That Jazz." Gymnasts performed to "Send In the Clowns" and "Thunder and Blazes" medley. "Moonlight Serenade" backed up a reminescent slide show highlighting events from the 40's. Majorettes were spotlighted in the 50's hit "Rock Around the Clock."

Musical Horizons opened its second half with hits from Broadway musicals. Jan Burgan was featured in the Barry Hartz arrangement of "New York, New York," from the musical of the same name. The M&M's made an appearance singing, "Got a Lot of Livin' to Do" and "Magic to Do." The disco craze of the 70's was featured in "Love's Theme" and "Saturday Night Fever," which were combined with a light show on the stage and in the audience. Jay Jones, Kathy Wolf and David Chrin portrayed characters from "Star Wars," while the Goldtones played an arrangement entitled "2001 Close Encounters of the Star Wars Kind." As always, Goldtones presented "String of Pearls" along with the traditional dropping of balloons as their finale.

Auditorium Mgr. leaves

It takes time, planning and energy to put together a show such as Musical Horizons. For the past three years, Mr. Bantum has devoted much of his time and energy to the technical aspects of Musical Horizons, as well as stagecraft classes and the general management of the Falls High auditorium. It was announced by Mr. Feldbush at this year's Musical Horizons Show that Mr. Bantum would not return to Falls next year.

Music repeats itself

A disco board, an outstanding stage set and a light show which turned the auditorium into a starry galaxy were only a few of the effects that made this year's Musical Horizons special. The disco board, designed by Mr. Bantum and Mr. Simon and built by Jim Cropley, enhanced the setting for the "Saturday Night Fever" medley. This disco board "symbolized our chronology theme," said Mr. Feldbush, "— the colors are in order from red to red, orange to orange, etc. and back again to red — the idea is as the color spectrum is a continuous pattern, so musical styles have a way of coming back, again and again."

In the arrangement called "2001 Encounters of the Star Wars Kind," a giant mirrored ball was hung from the auditorium ceiling, reflecting "stars" on the stage and audience, as film clips from the movie "Star Wars" were shown on twin screens on stage.

Study does pay dividends

On the evening of June 2, 1978 in the auditorium, the seniors were honored for their excellence. Recognition is always the first time the seniors wear their caps and gowns and history repeated itself this year with many caps sliding off and even more tassels swinging uncontrollably as 380 students out of a graduating class of 747 watched hundreds of thousands of dollars being award to top achievers in the form of scholarships; everything from fine arts to the military academy.

1. For her excellence in composition, and in recognition of her award from the National Council of Teachers of English, Margie Lucas receives a certificate from Mr. Birdy.
2. Cuyahoga Falls High Administrative Principal, Mr. Parsons welcomes the seniors, their parents, and the friends of the senior recognition on Friday, June 2, 1978.

Seniors are wild and rehearsal is hectic!

Last day for the seniors was Friday, May 26th and they had the long Memorial weekend to celebrate their new liberty but then they had to return to Falls to pick up their robes on May 31st.

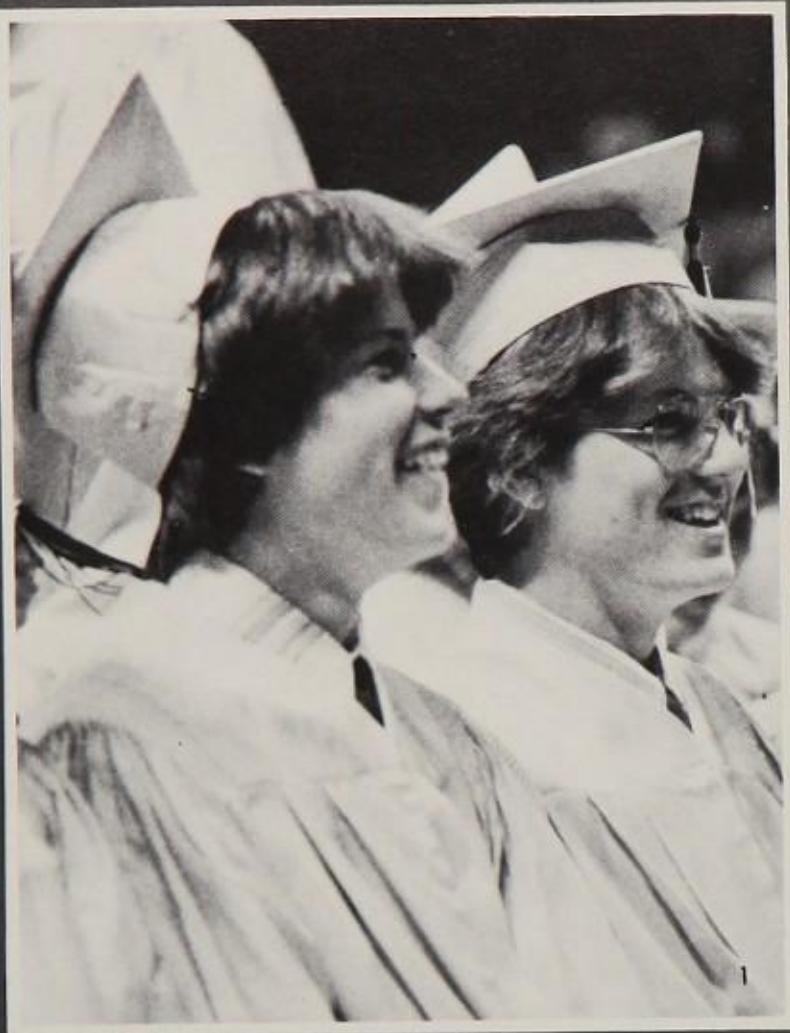

Many found that the hats were too big because they had changed their hair styles while some complained that their robes were either too short or too long. The wildest and most chaotic day came on the morning of June 6th when most of the seniors gathered at the coliseum to rehearse for graduation.

1. These are the "Joneses," Cathy and Jay waiting for their name to be called.
2. Each senior, as shown by Phil Rencevicz, receives a phoney diploma for purposes of practice.
3. On Wednesday, May 31 the seniors came back to pick up their caps and gowns.
4. Laurie Stouffer and Art Kovach try to find out where they're going and what they are doing.
5. Rehearsal attire is very casual in comparison to graduation night — Cheryl Spicer leads this line.
6. Joanne Ciraldo, David Chrin, Jeff Charles and Dennie Dunagan gather to line up for rehearsal.
7. She may be one of the last in line of 747 seniors, but Michele Zampelli is just as excited.

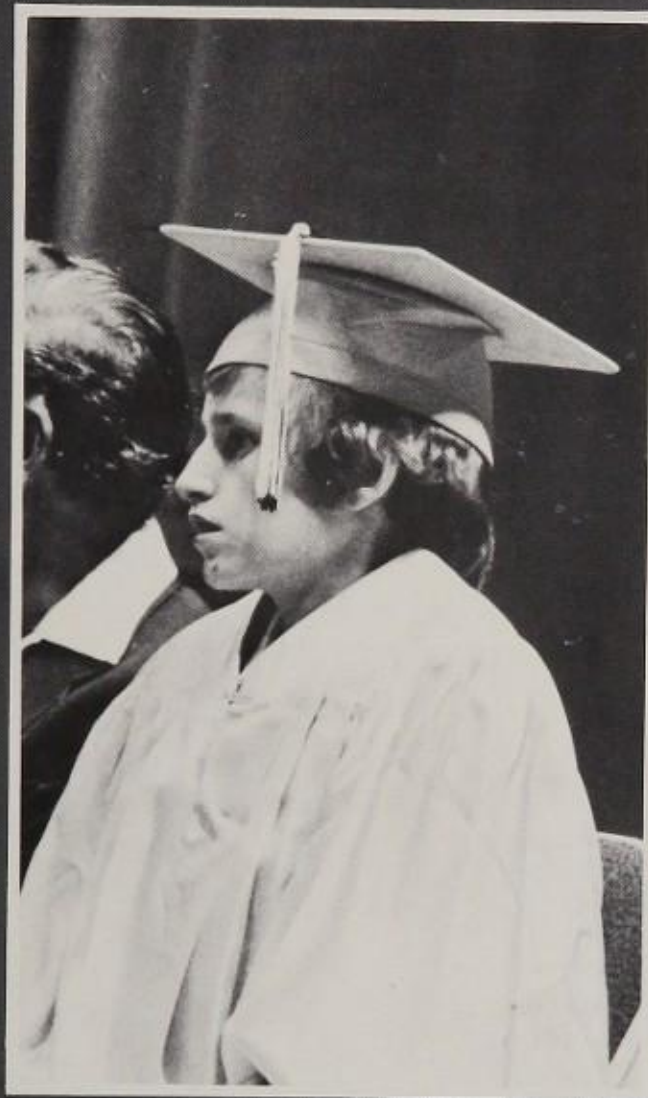

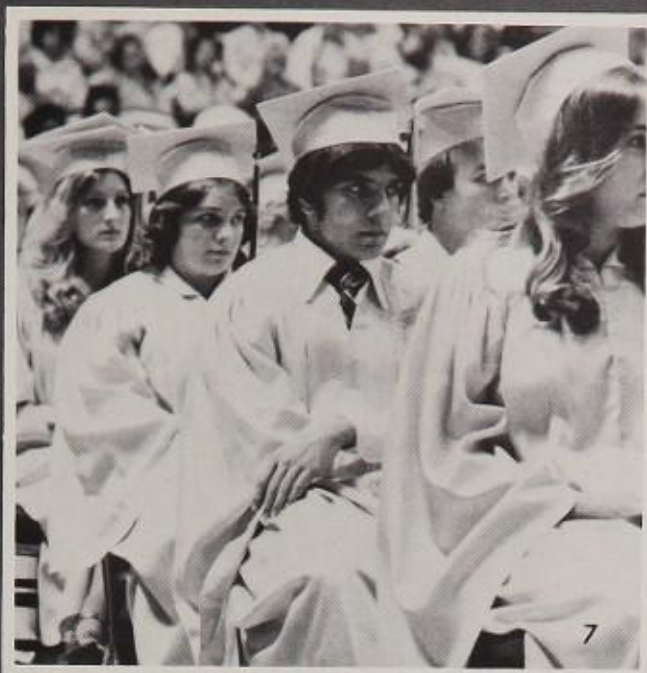

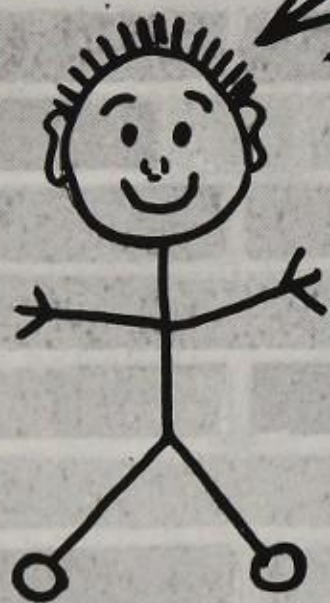

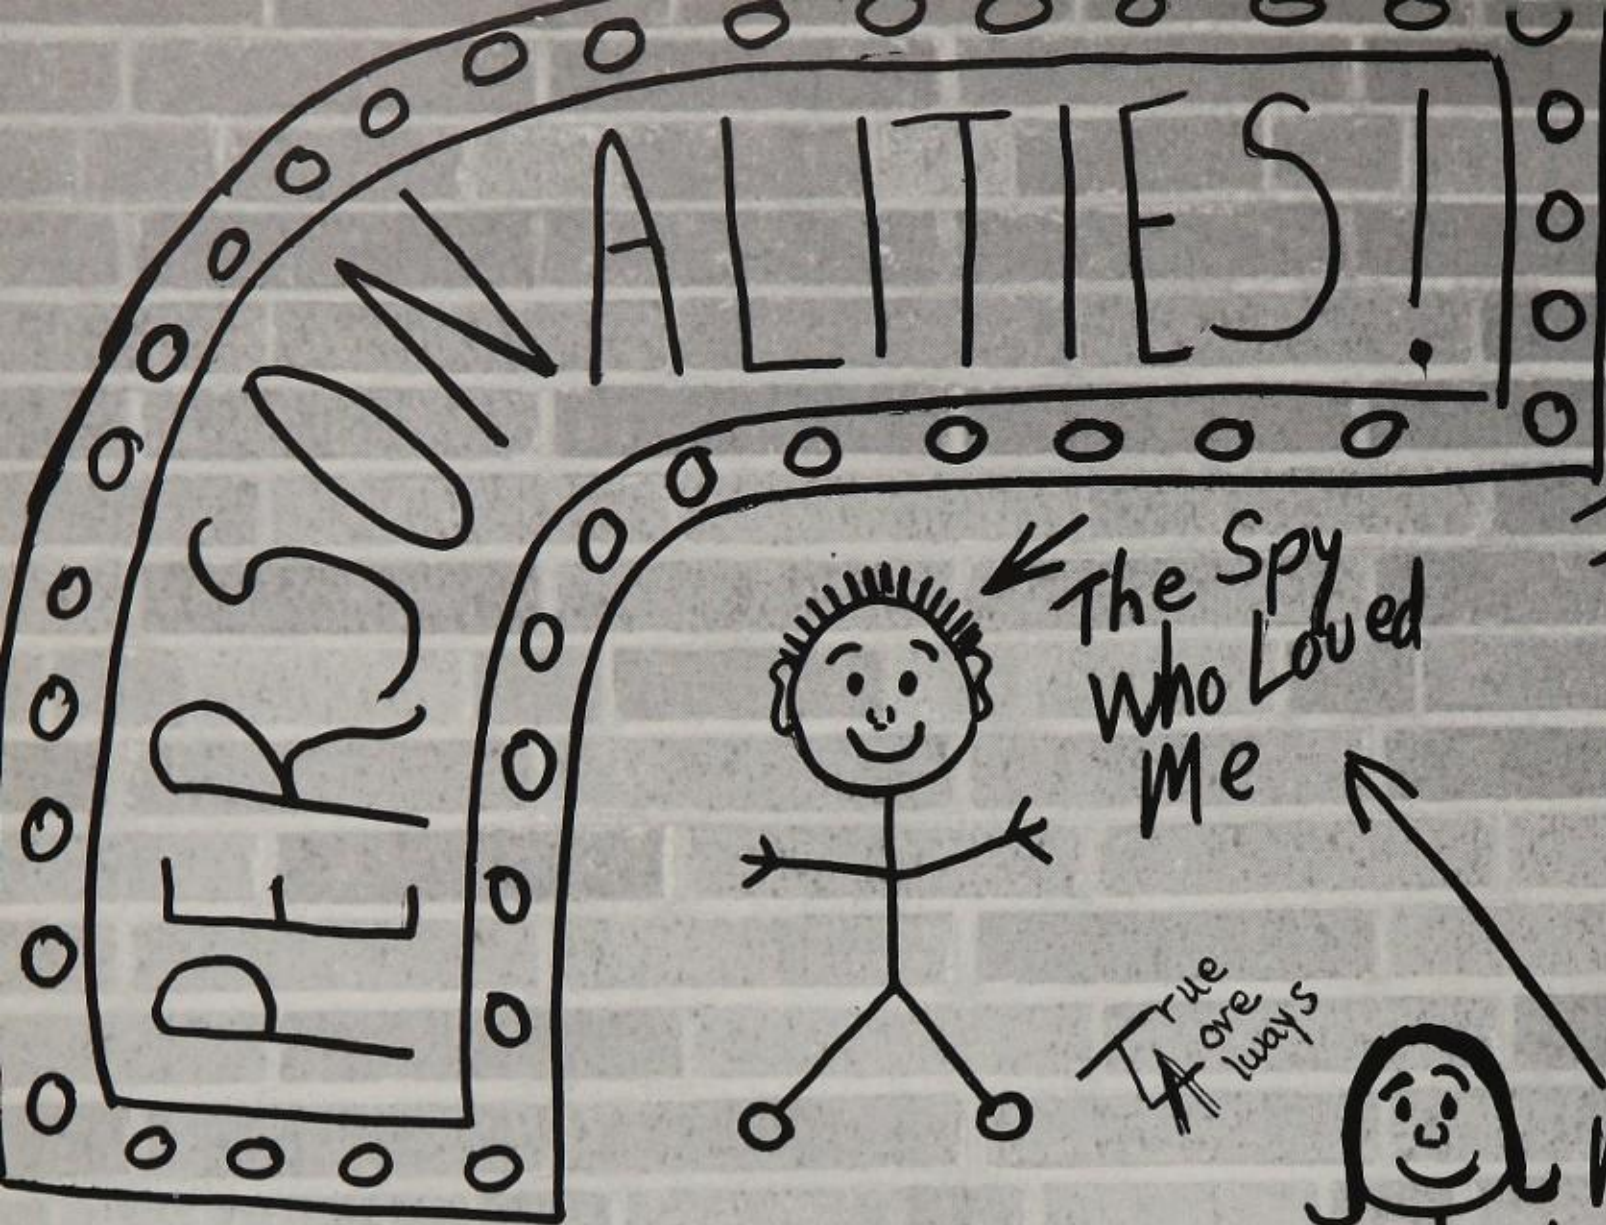

A final farewell

A final hug, a sentimental smile, a last hurrah, and a feeling of "we really did it" were the sentiments that seemed to dominate this graduation night of 1978. The evening's diploma symbolized with finality the end of a way of life for all the graduates. The next phase will be answering the eternal question, where do we go from here? For everyone it will still be an education, no matter whether the learning takes place at a college, for a job, in a family, or on a highway. With the class motto, "What we are is God's gift to us, What we become is our gift to God" in our minds, the class of 1978 has all the potential for a successful future and a future that will most certainly tap that potential.

These commencement exercises took place at the Coliseum where 747 seniors processed to the traditional "Pomp and Circumstance." After an invocation by Pastor Belasic, the Baccalaureate Address was given by Rev. Monsignor Campbell and a choral interlude was presented by the A Capella choir which was followed by Dr. Franklin Walter, State Superintendent of Public Instruction who gave the commencement address. After the presentation of diplomas, Ruth Giffin gave the class response and they recessed to "March Romain." Class colors were maroon and silver and the red rose was their flower.

1. Some, like Dwight Axtell and Steve Bachtel had a constant battle to keep their hats on.
2. The smallest class in many years, 747 are graduated.
3. Deanne Ashton at the Coliseum.
4. Class president for the upcoming seniors, Dorothy Mackey, leads one of the processional lines.
5. Even though the coliseum is air-cooled, Alan Brubaker loosens his tie to be more comfortable.
6. School board president, Mrs. Vasbinder, helps to award diplomas.
7. There are many moments for REFLECTION.
8. A REFLECTION of contemporary society, Jack Arnold, graduates "magna cum bearded."
9. Suffering from a chronic illness, Craig Warner wins a standing ovation from his classmates as he receives his diploma.
10. Ruth Giffin, Mr. Rump, Pastor Belasic, Mr. Nicel, Mr. Roth and Mrs. Fanin are just a few of the dignitaries.

Administrative Principal

The "unit system" concept was developed under superintendent Richard P. Gousha. Part of the original rationale was that the unit plan would have each grade or unit under a principal and unit set-up of guidance counselors and advisory teachers that would change very little during the three years of student attendance at CFHS. So it was a school within a school that would provide maximum benefit to each individual student.

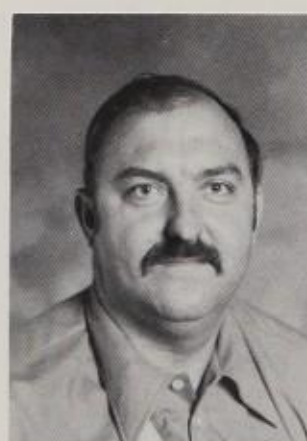

Among the many advantages is one disadvantage and that is the extreme difficulty in communicating all information to all people concerned.

Second year for counseling

For the second year, underclassmen received individual counseling to help them select English courses for '78-'79. Special orientation took place Jan. 9-20 when recommendations were made by the English teachers based on student performance and ability. Also, each pupil had access to "A Student's Guide to Elective Course Offerings" which listed each of the 25 elective courses, units covered, and description of projects, workload and nature of assignments. Forms were completed and signed by the student, teacher and parent.

Most English teachers took a turn at teaching Expository Writing like Mrs. Wroblewski.

Faculty concern grows over reduction-in-force

Many staff members began their teaching career when school administrators were desperately searching for certified personnel. Now, a mere ten years later, the Cuyahoga Falls Board of Education will not take applications because the school-age population has dropped and recent studies indicated that the number of faculty members would have to be reduced, and there was also much talk of paraprofessionals being reduced-in-force. This state of affairs sent a lot of faculty back to the classroom for extra hours in order that they might be granted tenure.

One of a dozen math teachers, Mr. Boston, helps with unfamiliar Algebra problems.

In a few years when we reflect upon our high school days we will realize that when the teachers opened the door, we should have walked through. Why is it that we wait until our senior year to gain insight to some degree and to learn that the shortcut was the fool's ways out? Reflections hurt sometimes!

Some students like Karl Fraley, were lucky enough to have class in the carpeted media room.

It's just the beginning of three short years at Falls

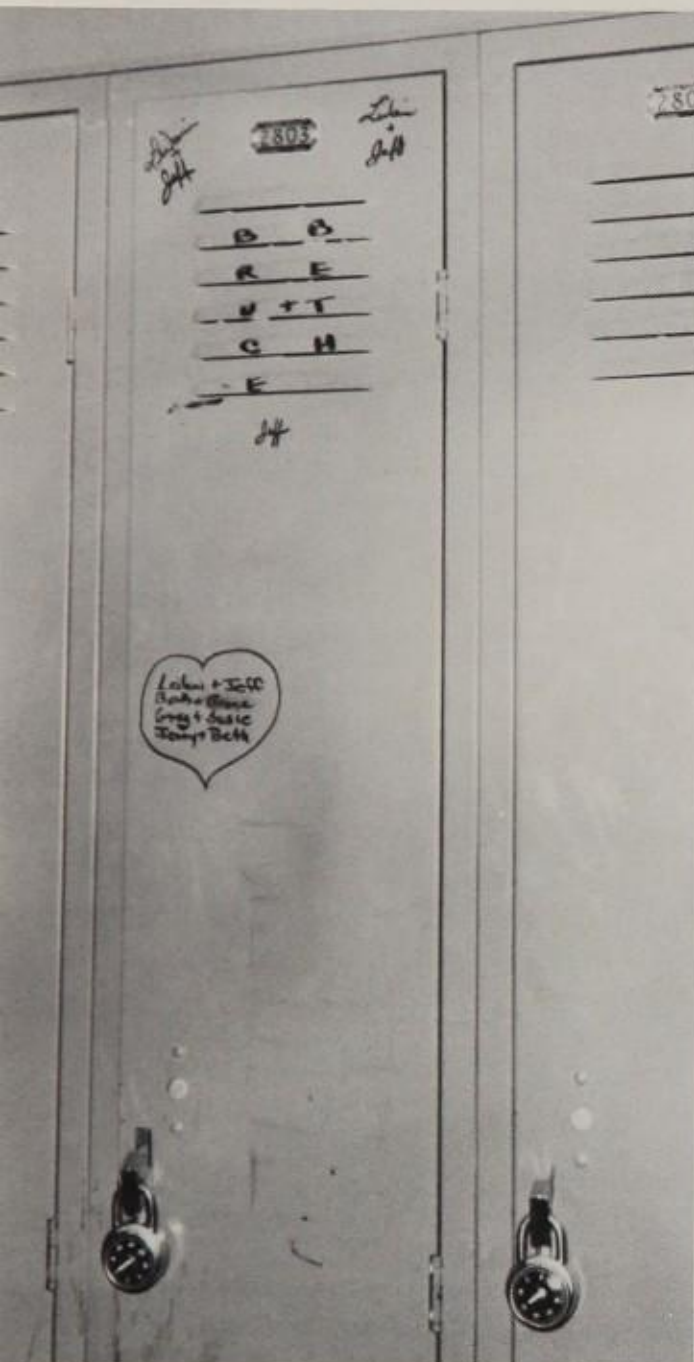

1. Schedules are mailed early to all students, but sophomores are especially eager to see "who they got." 2. Ghosted figures break through the haze of weather and the haze of apprehension which surrounds the "rookie" at Falls High. 3. Junior counselor, Mrs. Hawes, assists at sophomore orientation. 4. Amy Bingham instructs her group on the numbering system of the buildings. 5. Sophomores gather to meet their principal, Mr. Woods, as he is introduced by Mr. Parsons, administrative principal.

Orientation for the "Rookies."

Charlie Ruby

*In remembrance of

It is time to say the people of Silver Lake are remembering Charlie Ruby. He is with many of us throughout every day, in the mind of every eye — he's standing on the end of the dock with a bunch of guys, he's dating our daughters, he's walking down Hastings with the Curtis kids and the Johnsons.

Perhaps it's time to say that Charlie will never go away, as long as there are those of us who see his contagious smile and loving manner; for he was truly a sunshine of a person, a child without guile.

We look for reasons and find none.

We look for answers, at a time when no analysis is any good at explaining the causes of suffering. Maybe we need to trust a meaning in life which often leaps forth, away from a cause-and-effect rationality.

Here comes Charlie now to mow the grass. Our old dog, anticipating another confrontation with a tasty meter reader, is in ecstasy when he sees it is Charlie. He falls on his back and waves his paws in the air, a signal for Charlie to tickle his tummy. He isn't disappointed. His day is complete. He trusted.

"See! I will not forget you. I have carved you on the palm of my hand." Isaiah 49-15.

Just when the seniors, like Joe Panco, have reached the top, they find they have a long way to go.

Senior reflections published as "heads"

On April 26, 1978 the seniors filled out a survey sheet in homeroom. They voted on their favorite hangout, musician, album, concert, etc. These results appear on page 283. Each senior was also asked to respond to the following: "The theme of your '78 yearbook is REFLECTIONS. Reflect upon your memories — what is your most memorable experience of high school?" Headlines in the following senior section are comprised of some of those answers. We hope that in the future, these headlines will cause the reader to reflect and recall his years at Falls High.

Colophon

The 1978 CUYAHOGAN was printed through offset lithography in a volume 8½ X 11 with 1,150 copies and 304 pages by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas; Mr. Charles Grell, company representative. Paper stock is special 80 # high bulk enamel. Endsheets are 65 # stock with "gold rush" 24 pt. Chartpak (M18924C) rub-off lettering; the endsheets depict the happenings for the '77-'78 school year. All division pages were designed by the staff and were produced by overburning the art work on the ghosted picture. Pages 1-15 are in four color with 1 pt. and 12 pt. stripes of 100% red, blue, and yellow running alternately across the top ¼ of the pages with the body copy and idents being of the same color; the body copy is boxed by a 100% black 1 pt. rule line.

Body type is 12 pt. Digi-Type and ident copy is 8 pt., both with unjustified outside margins. Heading style is 24 pt. #54 Catalina Script used in the majority of the heads. The cover is Smyth sewn rounded and backed with special #15 bindersboard. It is a silkscreen design which is entirely original, created by staff member Kathi LaPolla, and is the exclusive property of the CUYAHOGAN. Brick grain in yellow #226 is the base of the cover with the design in black #910 silkscreened on without the grain being ironed out under the art work.

Carmen Studios of Akron, Ohio was the official senior photographer while underclass pictures were contracted by the school system and taken by DelMar Studios. Staff photographer was Bob Williams. The approximate cost of printing the CUYAHOGAN was $13,500 and the cost to the student was $8.50 pre sale (1,023 sold at this price) and the remainder were sold at $10.50 at a later date.

Special thanks and deep appreciation goes to the voters of Cuyahoga Falls who passed our bond levy. Without them, we would not have the facilities needed to publish this 1978 CUYAHOGAN. Our hope is that we serve our community well.

May 26th -

the halls echo with the sound of the seniors' last day;

tension and a hint of regret,
apprehension and anxiety

"Senioritis" is surely present.

One more hour to go.

memories linger;

hints left from the past;

an old poster left from the senior class party,

locker decorations abandoned on the floor, familiar faces soon to become distant strangers.

One more minute to go.

the tension builds,

formerly anxious faces relax

as the memory of homecomings and books make way for dreams of summers

One more second to go.

the bell rings and the seniors' names echo in its shrill vibrations.

screams and yells rise above the clatter of footsteps down the hall, out the door,
goodbye.

May 27th - a deafening silence and emptiness is present.

the promise of tomorrow is left for the juniors

as they begin their journey toward the end of a beginning.

Senior Reflections

Standing on the threshold of tomorrow
waiting to catch a glimmer of the past
as it speeds by without regret, wondering where we'll be five years from today, and hoping we'll still be able to remember

all the joy we're feeling now, we,
the seniors,
proudly march forward to accept our invitation to a new future,
a new tomorrow,
a new beginning.
